Mrs. Frances F. Landwehr accepts posthumous award of the Silver Star Medal for her husband, 2nd Lt. Duane H. Landwehr, Jr., (insert) who was killer in the Vietnam fighting last June 6. Making the presentation is Major General Shelton E. Lollis, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Tank-Automotive Command (TACOM).

Awarded Posthumously

CLINTON — Silver Star, Bronze Star and Purple Heart were awarded posthumously for Lt. Duane Landwehr, Jr., who was killed in action in Vietnam on June 16, 1969.

The presentation was made to Lt. Landwehr's wife, Frances, and son, Michael, 2, on Oct. 21, at the U.S. Tank Automotive Command at Warren, by Gen. Shelton E. Lollis. The ceremony was witnessed by 30 relatives and friends from the area.

Mrs. Landwehr, nee Frances Reeck, and son, Michael, reside at Lee Villa Trailer Court, on Gady Rd.

Duane's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bunney of 205 E. Church St., Clinton.

Duane Landwehr was born in Tecumseh, June 8, 1945 and graduated from Clinton High School in 1963. He attended Ferris State College.

He married Frances Reeck of Palmyra, Nov. 27, 1965.

He entered the Army May 1, 1966 and took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

He attended drill instructor school and on Feb. 27, 1967, he was selected as outstanding cadreman of his company. He graduated from officers candidate school, ranking 13th in his class, and became an instructor at the infantry school, completing the Ranger course on March 29, 1969, in 7th place.

Lt. Landwehr arrived in Vietnam on May 1, 1969.

His Silver Star award reads as follows:

"For gallantry in action: Second Lieutenant Landwehr distinguished himself by heroic actions on June 6, 1969, while serving as Platoon Leader with Company B, 4th Battalion, 23rd Infantry in Republic of Vietnam. While on reconnaissance in force mission, Company B encountered an enemy force of unknown size, in the initial burst of hostile force, several men were wounded. With complete disregard for his own safety, Lt. Landwehr maneuvered through the hail of enemy machine gun rocket propelled grenade and small arms fire to the injured men's position. Upon reaching his fallen comrades Lt. Landwehr began to administer aid to the wounded. As he was aiding a wounded comrade, Lt. Landwehr was fatally wounded. His valorous actions were responsible for saving several lives. Lt. Landwehr's bravery, aggressiveness and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest tradition of military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division and the United States Army."

His Bronze Star citation award states that it was presented for:

"Distinguishing himself by outstanding meritorious service in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam during the period, May 1, 1969 to June 1969.

"Through his untiring efforts and professional ability, he consistently obtained outstanding results, he was quick to grasp the implications of new problems with which he was faced as a result of the ever-changing situations inherent in a counter insurgency operation and to find ways and means to solve these problems.

The energetic applications of extensive knowledge has materially contributed to the efforts of the United States mission to the Republic of Vietnam to assist that country in ridding itself of the Communist threat to its freedom.

"His initiative, zeal, sound judgment and devotion to duty have been in the highest tradition of United States Army, and of the military service.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

MUST I RESPECT MY PASTOR?

Many men of this profession would not readily admit it but preachers do indeed do wrong and often are wrong. Some of our wives could testify to this.

Bible records indicate all men are sinners. Great Bible leaders such as Moses, David, Solomon, Peter and Paul sinned. We would be brash to place ourselves above them.

What place do preachers occupy? God tells us to respect them for their work's sake. This would be much as we respect our President. We sometimes dislike the person who is in office but need to respect the man in the office no matter who he is, because of the office.

God has called men to preach. Their job is to tell men about God, His Will, His Word, His opinion of men and His direction for men's lives. His job is to tell men how God would give them happy lives here and how to prepare for Eternity. No man or his words are to be accepted simply because he preaches. We ought to be like those in the book of Acts who searched the Scriptures daily whether these things be so.

If your pastor faithfully presents the Bible you should thank God. You should strive to be obedient to the Word of God. If your pastor does not preach the Word of God you should pray for him. Since church-going is primarily to worship God, it would be difficult to continue attending a service where one was never presented the requirements of God as laid down in the Bible.

Pastor McNeil would be glad to answer your questions. Write to Pastor Tell Me, c/ Tecumseh Herald or to Pastor McNeil, 2301 Young St., Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Send Greetings

When letters of gratitude kept drifting back to Tecumseh after the THS Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) collected and sent off a batch of thoughtful, friendly Christmas greetings to servicemen overseas last year, they realized they had a good thing going.

They are going to do it again this year.

They have placed big decorated boxes in the school fine arts room and the study hall, The United Savings Bank and The Herald office.

They ask anyone who wishes to send along a Christmas greeting — or a dozen of them — simply address them, "To a Fellow American" and include a personal message, signed with the sender's name and address. The deadline is Nov. 18.

Stamps are not necessary, they'll be distributed by Vietnam Mail Call, Inc., for forwarding to U. S. servicemen in Vietnam and Thailand.

For many of these men last year, it was the only Christmas greeting they received.

Kathy House is chairman of the Christmas cheer project. Kathy Baugh is president of the FBLA, and the advisor is Mrs. H. Lee Prettyman.

Other members of the committee are Charlene Lickfelt, Jera and Jana Robinson, Pam Creger, Susan Prettyman and Pat Miller.

The girls raised money to finance the project (which includes the cost of postage) from a bake sale which netted $28.11.

Torino. High Style.

Nothing in its field can match it for looks or luxury.

The elegant Torino Brougham is rich in looks, lavish in appointments. Compare it to other intermediates. You won't find its equal anywhere—not in appearance and certainly not in price. It has a longer wheelbase for a smoother ride. A wider track for better [illegible] handling. Hideaway Headlamps, concealed windshield wipers, 302 CID V-8 are just a few of the standard features. Take your choice of 2- or 4-door hardtops. Either one is worth a visit just to see how beautiful it is.

Torino Brougham 2-Door Hardtop

Torino. High Performance.

New SportsRoof styling...six great V-8's.

Torino GT gives you the ride, the handling, even its own aerodynamic SportsRoof styling that adds to your go. And you can go all the way up to the 429 Cobra Jet Ram-Air V-8 with a living, breathing, through-the-hood shaker. Then add our new Laser Stripes, high-back buckets, 4-speed Hurst Shifter® . . . you get the idea. Park the GT if you want to collect a crowd, and take them on a cruise if you want to dazzle them.

Torino GT SportsRoof

Torino. Low Price.

Lowest priced hardtop in its class.

This is the beauty that caught the competition napping. You won't find a lower priced intermediate hardtop anywhere in the country. Yet it offers you many features you'll find only on the more expensive Torino models. Longer wheelbase. Wider track. Curved side glass. Concealed windshield wipers. Fiberglass belted tires, and more. Fairlane 500 is just one of thirteen great ways to go Torino in 1970. Your Ford Dealer is the man to see, to see them all.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

Cyclamates are about 30 times as sweet as sugar. In many products, the sodium or calcium salt of cyclamate is mixed with a saccharin (300 times as sweet as sugar). About 70 per cent of cyclamate consumption is in low-calorie soft drinks, including mix-it-yourself beverage powders; the remainder in low calorie candies, desserts, ice cream, pastries, canned fruits, syrups, bacon, ham and other foods, in some pediatric medicines and vitamin chew tablets.

Although cyclamate is not absorbed from the human intestine, part of it is converted in the intestines to cyclohexylamine, the compound from which cyclamate is synthesized. Cyclohexylamine, unlike cyclamate, is absorbed from the intestine.

In experiments with rats, it caused an abnormally high incidence of chromosomal breaks in the leykocytes within the bone marrow. Cyclohexylamine is a pressor amine, and in experimental animals has caused arteriolar constriction. Pending further investigation, it would be prudent for those with severe hypertension, or those taking MAO drugs to limit the intake of cyclamate-sweetened beverages or foods.

The Food and Drug Administration has endorsed a lower maximum of 23 mg of cyclamates per pound of body weight per day. On the basis of this lower limit, the FDA has proposed regulations requiring the labels of all products containing cyclamate to state that the maximum daily cyclamate ingestion for an adult should be 3.5 gm; for a child, 1.2 gm. The amount of cyclamate in a bottle of artificially-sweetened soda pop varies from 300 mg to 1 gram or more. The maximum amount for young children is exceeded by two 12-oz. cans of diet cola. The total amount of cyclamate consumed by many older children and by adults in soft drinks and foods can easily exceed the FDA limit.

IN CONCLUSION, you might well be advised to read all labels of sweetened foods, candy and beverages and to eliminate or minimize intake of cyclamate-sweetened products.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

"BIG SKY COUNTRY"

It used to be that my west-facing window looked out on a cozy, snug, tight, little, tree-lined world. As of a few weeks ago, things have changed. Oh, the north half is still the same, the rest of it is entirely different though. I still have the maples along the creek bank but to the south of them there is a great expanse of "big sky country."

The reason for the sudden and drastic change in my window world is that one of its main features, the big lovely old elm tree, is gone. What a hole it left.

During the day, when my bed is down in front of the window and I am propped up to read, the tree itself and its large crooked limbs are missed, but, when the bed is back in the room further and I am lying down, the sudden emptiness and the great expanse of sky which I see, is awe-inspiring. I simply can not get used to it.

It always hurts to see a tree cut down; it is like losing an old friend. In this case, however, the saddest time was not the actual felling itself but was many, many months ago when we first noticed the tell-tale sign, the dreaded yellowing of the leaves, which screamed Dutch Elm Disease.

We knew the tree was doomed. As befits an old warrior, the tree waged a valiant fight but, of course, the end was never in doubt. Although we are able to put men on the moon, Dutch Elm Disease has us stumped.

SOMETIME AGO, and unfortunately the article has become lost in the shuffle, but anyway, I read a most thought-provoking tirade against our lack of progress in the fight against this disease.

The author was outraged that we spend millions of dollars and muster up oceans of public support to save the redwood trees in California and yet little is done to save the elms. The redwoods are, of course, marvelous trees and should be protected, no one is questioning that. Why, though this man wondered, are we all so apathetic about the loss of the elms — trees which are familiar and important to us all.

This, of course, is part of the answer — the elms are familiar, we see them every day and we have lived with their dying for years. It is a sad commentary, though, that we become excited about the exotic while letting the commonplace slip away without protest. But, Marda, enough of that . . .

It was hard to see the tree dying, and isn't it amazing how fast they go once Dutch Elm really takes hold: on the other hand, however, once the branches all became bare and the tree itself became a menace, it was almost a relief to see the tree men pull into Carmean's driveway.

I have no idea how old this tree was but it was certainly among the oldest and largest in town. More food for thought: think how long it takes a tree to become the giant this was and then realize, 1. how tiny are the wood beetles which carry the fatal disease and, 2, how quickly man can completely remove all those "years of growing". Using a cherry picker, three sizes of chain saws, one man working on the tree and another one busy on the ground, it took about two hours and the tree was down.

If Carmeans and the three Duncans and one Austin are having trouble adjusting to the loss of our beloved old elm, just think of what a traumatic experience the birds and squirrels are suffering. All of the birds used the tree but the hairy woodpeckers were especially busy this summer.

THE DEAD WOOD must have provided much good bug-eating. The red-headed woodpeckers will miss the long crooked limb which came our way, they used it as a launching site and landing field for their mulberry picking expeditions.

This same limb was an important link in the squirrel's system of tree roads; actually, the whole tree was a major and almost vital segment of their highway network. Now, I am sure the whole complex will have to be completely redesigned.

Also redesigned will have to be some of my window watching. My thinking is in the process of being rearranged as I must look for birds in a different section of my window world.

Sun glasses are going to come in for more use, too, sunny days are bright, bright, bright. And one interesting fact of this new scene is the wonderfully big expanse of sky. The unobstructed view already has shown innumerable shades of blue, gray and black; flocks of birds flying high and all sorts of jet streams are noticeable; clouds — oh, this could be a whole new field of study.

So it is that our window world has been radically changed and, while we all bemoan the loss, there is also a challenge presented by the new big sky country.

Blissfield Lady Drives Too Fast

Mrs. George Milosh, 27, of Blissfield, was given a summons for driving too fast when her vehicle collided with a Servomation van, driven by Gerald R. Frazier, 25, of 6517 N. Adrian Hwy.

The mishap occurred at 7:20 pm. Friday on US-12, just west of River St. in Clinton. Both vehicles were westbound as Frazier was waiting for a car ahead to make a left turn. His automobile was struck by Mrs Milosh's vehicle as she was unable to stop in time and swerved to the left.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for Tecumseh readers at their public library:

ADULT

MY LIFE AND PROPHECIES, by Jeane Dixon. For the first time, world-famous Jeane Dixon tells her own story, in her own words, and reveals what she sees in store for the future!

WHEN YOUR CHILD IS ILL, by Samuel Karelitz, M. D. This book is a guide to infectious diseases in childhood, and should be considered as a handbook, not as a substitute doctor, but as an aid in answering questions parents ask before and after the doctor's visit.

THE PETER PRINCIPLE, by Dr. Laurence J. Peter. Why is the human race foundering in a morass of occupational, academic and administrative inefficiency? Here, at last, is the answer in the delightful, dead-pan humor of this book.

MOSHE DAYAN, A PORTRAIT. This story of a native son of Israel, fighter, military leader and one of the key men in shaping the policy of his country is inalienably that of the State which he serves so devotedly.

YOUNG ADULT

BRIGHT WINDOWS, by Mary Wallace. Brenden O'Nolan, an appealing Irishman, moves fast, goes far and accomplishes miracles where saints and angels would hesitate to try.

PRO COACH, by Joe Archibald. Another football story, but this is a program, and this is shattering gridiron action, as only Joe Archibald can tell it.

JUNIOR BOOKS

ROARD OF THE ROAD, by Hal Butler. This tory of auto racing offers a trackside seat for what many consider the greatest sport of all — Indianapolis 500 — Grand Prix — stock car and drag strip races, and drivers who have raced their way to glory.

NIGHT ROVERS, by Irmengarde Eberle. Would you like to know more about flying squirrels? This tale tells about their neighbors among the trees — the raccoon, opossum, the field mouse and others. It is a story for nature lovers of all ages.

SMALL FRY BOOKS

CLEAN AS A WHISTLE, by Aileen Fisher. Another of Miss Fisher's delightful books written in rhyme. CLEAN AS A WHISTLE talks about boys and girls, animals, birds and others and their methods of becoming "clean as a whistle".

FLY HOMER FLY, by Bill Peet. Every book by Bill Peet is better than his last. Homer is a pigeon, a farm pigeon, who gets restles and lonely. One day a great storm lands Sparky, a city sparrow on Homer's doorstep, and Homer was lured to the big city. Homer quickly learned, however, that it's every bird for himself in the city.

ALABAMA TREASURE — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahlke with a portion of the petrified tree log delicately coated with smoky quartz crystal they found in Alabama while there with 29 other Tecumseh area people. It's on display at the Herrick Park branch of United Savings Bank.

Those Marvelous Alabamians

By DONNA DAHLKE

When Alabama is mentioned around here, the responses generally carry undertones of fear, mistrust and misconceptions of what this state deep in the heart of Dixie is really like.

Unless one has family there, the idea of touring Alabama just doesn't rate consideration. One statement often heard is "I'd be afraid to go anywhere near that state with all its racial problems". The average Northerner has the idea that Alabama consists of Negroes slaving in cotton fields, its inhabitants hostile to "Yankees", with protest marches and cruel conflicts dominating the scene. How about you? Have you been there yourself and seen these things to be true?

Twenty-nine of this area's residents recently spent a week deep inside Alabama territory, by choice. Members of State Line Gem & Mineral Society, they were lured by the promise of good rock hunting. They found mineral richness in the form of a 30"-diameter, 7-foot long petrified tree log whose interior was delicately coated with sparkling smoky quartz crystals. They also found gem grade garnets, agate and an abundance of other nice materials. But they found much more, and what started out as a rock-hunting expedition turned into a good will tour.

The people of Alabama have heard and read of Detroit's race riots, Ann Arbor slayings, campus strifes, etc. So they could have rejected our visit, but instead they welcomed it. Ask any one of these 29 people what their impression of Alabama is and you'll discover they all learned a few lessons in true brotherhood. Michigan can be proud of the delegation as news of their reciprocal generosity and friendship to the people of Alabama spread to the local and city newspapers and eventually led to a reception in the governor's private office in Montgomery.

This trip climaxed a desire on the part of yours truly and spouse to have others experience this marvelous Southern hospitality. We discovered Alabama's warmth two years ago, when heavy snows forced us to alter our route home from Florida. The scenery and the people so impressed us that we went back for a more concentrated inspection this past April. In our travels we have spent much time and traveled miles criss-crossing the state, seeing the sights and meeting the people. What we learned was too important to keep to ourselves.

Scenically, Alabama has a wide diversity — from mountains to the flat farming "black belt", numerous lovely caves, vast man-made lakes and dams, quaint little hamlets and bustling cities. The climate is moderate the year round, and while our friends here were feeling the first chills of winter, we basked in 20- and 90-degree sunshine on this recent trip.

But more than the vast warehouse of scenic attractions to explore, it is the people who hold the real charm. We have met and talked to hundreds in all parts of the state: — businessmen, authors, reporters, people on the farms and in the cities, and, of course, rockhounds. A genuine warmth, deep courtesy and a sense of humor is part of every person we met. We have yet to meet an unfriendly Alabamian.

They chat freely on the "War Between the States", calling it a catastronhe to both North and South. To them we aren't "Yankees" — we are friends from the North.

Regarding the racial crises we have heard about, they do not have as many problems as occur in our own state. And the few incidents that make the news are grossly exaggerated.

Let's unfold a picture that can help explain some of the incidents you've heard of. Consider the fact that the old slave owners were a minority, building their prestige and wealth at the high cost of emotional and economic havoc to both the Negro slave and the small white farmer. It was these aristocrats who dominated the political scene and therefore opposed any ideas of freeing their slaves even to the extent of a [illegible]. We were told in all parts of the state that it is the descendants of this aristocracy, the grandeur of the past instilled in them, that cannot and will not forgive and forget the emancipation which stripped them of their easy life and power. The rest of the people accept the Negro, feel sorry for his plight, and speak warmly of the colored families in their areas, even helping them as one neighbor to another in time of need.

Other attributes which set Alabamians apart beyond their genuine warmth toward everyone, is a deep religious conviction which comes from the heart and reflects in all aspects of their lives, sincere politeness and gratitude, and a marvelous sense of humor. These characteristics, we are told, have their roots in their ancestry when times were rough and only religious faith and trying to make light of their problems carried them through. You see these virtues in everyone — from small children to oldsters, both white and Negro, in all parts of the state. They have a dignity which commands respect, yet they win this respect through their genuine consideration of others and not by force. Time spent with these marvelous folks is to be cherished and 29 Northerners left a bit of themselves in Alabama and parted in sadness from these new-found friends.

The area people who participated in this Southern adventure the week of October 15 were Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahlke of Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Echelbarger of Tipton; Mr. and Mrs. Julian Strong of Ridgeway; Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeYarmond of Dewey Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Frazier Tubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gregg, Mrs. Elmer Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Southworth, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kirkwood and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Walworth of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickerson of Milan; Mrs. William Huston of Jasper; Mrs. Lynn Hewitt of Weston; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bethel of Toledo; and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fisk of Kinsman, O.

This group stayed at Wind Creek Park on beautiful Lake Martin just south of Alexander City. Daily rock collecting trips were guided by members of the Lake Martin Rock & Gem Club and the material acquired exceeded our fondest hopes. Sightseeing and recreational trips included the Boldin Dam hydro plant, cotton fields and mechanized harvesting, marble quarries and processing plants in Sylacauga, crafts and farmers' market in Eclectic, Martin Dam, and a day in Montgomery where tours were made of the Capitol building and grounds, "The Avenue of Flags" which features the flag and a stone plaque from each state, the Archives Building, Jefferson Davis home and the Southern Alabama State Fair.

Social times to be remembered are the evening campfires and discussions, the Chamber of Commerce, news reporters [illegible] people who came daily to extend welcome and hospitality, the gifts presented by various individuals and organizations, being guests at a special meeting in Alex City, dinner at Kowaligia Bridge (made famous in Hank Williams' song) and a large picnic, complete with unlimited delicious Southern cooking, hosted by the local people.

Even more amazing are the letters coming daily from individuals and organizations in Alabama thanking us for visiting them as though we had done them a great honor. We are the ones to feel gratitude to them for all their efforts on our behalf. One thing is certain — you just can't get ahead of those marvelous Alabamians.

This experiment proved that North and South can meet and do much to promote mutual understanding of the problems which threaten to tear our country apart. It is earnestly desired that others will follow our example.

Play Brings Chuckles

By Virginia Murray

The emotional impact of "The Curious Savage" will hit you several days later, when you find yourself chuckling over the warm humor of the Tecumseh Players' latest offering. It's just the thing to lift you out of the late Fall doldrums.

Worth the price of admission is the performance of Bertha Vallelunga, who beautifully sustains the role of the eccentric New England matron who wishes to establish a multi-million dollar trust fund in memory of her late husband.

The efforts of her greedy children to thwart the plan forces them to commit Mrs. Savage to a private mental institution, which serves as a backdrop for the action of this delightful production.

Her much-married daughter is played by Dorothy Wetter, with just the right touch of "high society" disdain; her son, an overly-aggressive Senator is done with bombastic seriousness by Hal Weakly, one of the Players' most seasoned performers. The role of her other son, a pompous Judge, is acted with dignity and expertise by Don Wetter.

When Mrs. Savage is thrown into the tight little island of the mental institution, its official family, the patients and staff, react with sensitivity and kindness, vividly contrasting to the attitudes of greed and avarice shown by the relatives .

Her psychiatrist, calmly and competently played by Guil Rothfuss, had the doctors in the audience taking notes on his skill at human relations! His nurse, Sharon Frayer, acts out her important role with professional skill.

But, it is the patients who run away with the hearts of the audience: Florence, who cannot accept the death of her child, is poignantly played by Barbara Gearig; Ed. Saltmarche as Hannibal, fiddles his way into the affection of Mrs. Savage and the audience; Rene Crombez as Jeffrey, a brilliant musician hopelessly, emotionally scarred by the war, makes us realize that the scars left by combat are not always physical; the difficult role of Mrs. Paddy is ably handled by Jo Wegner, also a veteran performer. Last, but not least, of the patients at "The Cloisters" is Fairy May, ably played by Judy Dorman who adds yet another dimension to her multifaceted talents by the delicate handling of this sensitive role.

The set was well designed, the lighting and sound excellent, particularly in the final scene, which left not a dry eye in the audience, one member of which was overheard to say, "Who's the old lady, she's great!"

This just about sums up the performance of our great theatrical star, Bertha Vallelunga. Her skill as a make-up artist and her smooth handling of the most difficult roles mark her as the professional she is. Broadway's loss was Tecumseh's gain; to miss a performance by this charming actress is unthinkable.

But, the orchid of the evening must go to the director, Diane Harbaugh. Taking a group of people, a few with professional experience, others seasoned amateurs, the remainder talented but inexperienced newcomers, and creating an even, fast-moving performance takes real skill.

Her husband, Glen, is the multitalented head of the Adrian College Dramatic Department. These two make beautiful theatre, working together or apart. For a delightful evening, don't miss this sure-fire bit of merriment.

Kudos to assistant director Louise Lawson and technical director John Day. Props were handled by Louise and Linda Sackett, lights by Bill Frawnfelder, tickets by Helen Bendes and Marty Bagdon, house by Sherry Weakly and Vesta Rothfuss.

The programs were designed and produced by Bob Bagdon.

GUESS WHO WON — Coach Tom Fagan makes no bones about who won the Tecumseh-Adrian game. The Indians poured it on in the second half for a 24-6 victory, the second straight year that Tecumseh has trounced its county seat rival, and the fourth time the Indians have won under Fagan. The '69 club was one of Fagan's best — if not his best — in eight years at the helm here.

INDIAN MUSCLE SHOWS IN 8th WIN

Tecumseh's Second Half Rally Tramples Rival Adrian, 24-6

Football's 1969 finale couldn't have been sweeter than Tecumseh's 24-6 victory over a visiting Adrian club. The never-say-die Indians came back in the second half to erase a six-point deficit and then all but rout the Maples with three touchdowns.

It was two games wrapped up in 48 minutes of action with Adrian dominating action in the first half, scoring once and just missing on a couple other occasions.

The second half was all Tecumseh as the smaller and quicker Indians completely bottled up Adrian's running game and then poured on the offense, something local fans had seen only once before this year.

Although Coach Tom Fagan's club gave good indication in its second game that it could run against the Maples when the Indians moved from their 20 to Adrian's 27 before faltering. Tecumseh really broke loose in the second half.

The sluggish front line of Adrian simply couldn't cope with the power sweep, or come back and stop the short man cutting back. Before this weakness was discovered, the Maples had given every indication of controlling and winning the game.

Midway through the first quarter, Adrian took over on the 50 and scored in just five plays. After the Maples' big 190-pound fullback, Rick Griewahn, picked up two yards to the 48, quarterback Doug Wenn faked beautifully to Griewahn, kept the ball and skirted right end for 28 yards to Tecumseh's 20.

After two plays and the ball on the 10, Griewahn tallied. The Maples attempted to pick up two extra points by passing, but it fell incomplete.

Tecumseh took the second half kickoff from its 39 to Adrian's 33 where the Maples intercepted a pass at the two. The Maples benefited from a 15-yard Tecumseh penalty to the 17 and made a first down at the 28, where they fumbled with the Indians recovering on the 29.

Seven plays later Ken Pieh bulled over from the three to knot the score. Then on a faked sweep, Pieh passed to Mike Kennedy for the extra points and an 8-6 Indian lead.

Late in the fourth period, the Indians broke open the game, starting from their 32. Pieh picked up six yards in two carries. Then Frank Geisenhaver, taking the ball from quarterback Craig Smith and cutting back through the Maples' line, the chunky fullback then cut towards the sidelines, broke a couple tackles, stumbled for 10 yards and broke some more tackles. He raced to the Adrian four where he was hauled down from behind.

This sensational run broke Adrian's spirit as the Maples still had a chance. From the four, Pieh went in on his second carry. Smith, then faking a pass while running to his right, cut downfield and just caught the end zone for two extra points.

With time running out and Adrian taking to the air — only to lose 35 yards as the Indians poured through to throw passers for two consecutive losses — the Maples punted to their 46.

Two running plays by Pieh and Geisenhaver netted 13 yards, and on first down, Geisenhaver skirted through the left side of the Maples and scampered 33 yards for Tecumseh's third TD.

By then, a stream of Adrian cars were already en route home and the Maples' stands two-thirds empty. The game ended when Ralph Miller intercepted a desperate Adrian pass on Tecumseh's 45.

Defense again played a major role in the Indians' victory as the front line finally wore down Griewahn, and with Griewahn, Adrian apparently had no other runner. In the second half, Adrian was held to just one yard net in rushing, due to the Indians throwing the Adrian quarterback for a total of 35 yards loss in two plays.

Pieh, workhorse of the Indian backfield and a cinch to gain all-league and area honors, carried 29 times for 95 yards. Top gainer, however, was Geisenhaver with 131 yards in just 10 carries for a 13.1 average.

Smith connected on six of 10 passes and had two intercepted. The Indians gained 249 yards rushing to 105 for the Maples.

The Tecumseh victory narrowed the series to 7-6-1 with Adrian still holding a one game edge since the clubs renewed competition in 1957. Coach Fagan has split his eight games, winning four and losing four.

Friday night's game also saw the Indians score the most points against an Adrian team since the series started — and Adrian this year was touted as having an excellent defense.

Tilton, Greenfield, Pieh on All-Huron League '11'

Steve Tilton, Jack Greenfield and Ken Pieh were picked to the All-Huron League team Monday night when coaches met at Airport for the selections.

Tilton, offensive guard and interior linebacker, played outstanding ball all season and repeatedly drew praise from the local coaches for his linebacking. Game films show that he was a big factor in stopping Adrian's running game last Friday.

Greenfield, a tri-captain along with Pieh and Mike Kennedy, was a steady performer on both offense and defense and won a position on the all-league eleven at a tackle position.

Workhorse and leading ground-gainer for the Indians was Pieh, hard-running halfback who led the Indians in scoring. He often carried more than 25 times a game and other clubs keyed their defenses to stop him. He scored twice against the Maples.

Tecumseh and Monroe CC dominated the first team selections with three players each.

Earl Ruttkofsky, tackle, was picked for the second team, and Kennedy and Bob Hackett received honorable mention.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Proceeds will be used by the Tecumseh organization to purchase authentic Japanese judo mats.

Cunningham Plan OK'd by Planners

Plot plan for multi-family development in the Waskins Subdivision was approved by the Planning Commission Monday night.

The plan, submitted by Dean Cunningham, calls for 24 two-bedroom units in three buildings. Only change to the original plan was switching the parking from in front of the buildings to the rear.

In other action, the Commission re-zoned the rest of the lots east of Waskin Dr. for two-family units or duplexes.

Holiday Ball Dec. 6th

Plans are underway for the 21st annual Holiday Ball to be held Dec. 6 at the Country Club.

Mrs. Fred Hartwig, assisted by Mrs. William Holmes, is chairman.

Flora Smith and Mrs. Donald Dunmore are putting their artistic talents to work as co-chairman of the decorating committee.

Mrs. William Macbeth is chairing the ticket committee, and plans have been made to have the invitations in the mail the week of Nov. 17.

As co-chairman of the refreshment committee, Mrs. Edwin Schwartz and Mrs. Robert Brown are creating taste-tempting delicacies for the midnight supper.

Profits realized from the annual event will be used toward the purchase of an audio visual training system, used to train hospital personnel in the recognition of cardiac arrythmias. It will also replace an old electrocardiogram machine at a total cost of approximately $2000.

Dress Code Is Supported

Hopes of the Student Assembly at Tecumseh High School to have the dress code abolished were jolted Tuesday night when an overwhelming number of parents indicated support of the code.

Approximately 150 parents, plus students, teachers and administrators met after the high school open house in the school's library. Neville Hart, THS principal, presided at the meeting which included a question-answer period by the students.

About 12 students expressed their opinions, all in favor of dropping the dress code.

Late in October, the Student Assembly informed Mr. Hart that it wanted the dress code dropped. Tuesday of this week, students asked Mr. Hart to meet with them and parents after the open house.

The high school principal announced to parents at the open house about the meeting and asked them to attend. Students, apparently, felt they would receive support from the adults.

Image of Tecumseh students and their reputation were factors pointed out in favor of the code at the session.

The students felt they should exercise their own responsibilities in proper attire, and that students and parents should decide that which is appropriate.

The somewhat liberal dress code was approved and adopted last spring to provide guidelines for the students.

T-A Open House Next Thursday

Mrs. Gordon Garlick, principal at Tecumseh Acres School, urges parents to attend an open house there, Thursday, Nov. 20.

Folks will gather in the gym at 7:30 to meet teachers and for coffee and cookies before room visitations to see displays of current work of the students.

EMOTIONS ERUPT — Mike Kennedy (No. 5) and Coach Pat Connors wave and smile in victory here as the Indians grouped following their second straight victory over Adrian. The Indians came on strong in the second half and completely dominated the bigger Maples — who practically quit when Tecumseh tallied its second touchdown and went ahead by 10 points.

Commander Asks Folks for Support

Commander Carroll Conklin, of the Hall-Slater VFW Post, is calling on all community organizations to join the VFW in "Operation Speak Out," which is a program designed to encourage the "silent majority" to show their support of the government during the week of Nov. 9-15 on the Vietnam question.

He said that Moratorium Day, Oct. 15, has given the world, especially Hanoi, a distorted view of the true feeling of the majority of people in this country.

"It seems tragic that there are those in this country who support the position of Hanoi while American servicemen are being killed daily by troops of Communist North Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

For this program to be effective, members of Hall-Slater Post hope that all civic, fraternal, patriotic, labor, religious and other organizations here will join in making this a true community effort," Conklin concluded.

Grain Dryer Catches Fire

An overheated grain dryer caught fire at the Harold Amstutz farm, Billmyer Rd., Tuesday afternoon.

Some 50 bushels of corn was ruined, and there was an estimated $100 damage to the dryer.

Mrs. Amstutz discovered the fire, and attempted to call the Clinton Fire Department. However, she was unable to reach them as was the operator. The Tecumseh Fire Department was then called.

Mrs. Amstutz reports she hooked up a water hose, and while her father-in-law, Harry Amstutz of Deerfield, used the hose, she went three miles away to call her husband who was working in another field.

The Tecumseh Fire Department was already there when the Amstutzes returned home, and the fire was under control quickly.

Apparently some of the corn in the dryer was salvageable, according to Mrs. Amstutz.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Somebody should tell hunters to go to blazes! This bit comes from Michigan Out-of-Doors, and we are inclined to agree, especially after reading that if hunters paid attention to this advice it could mean the saving of some lives in the woods.

Blazes, they refer to, are those fluorescent or "fire" colors that stand out so well from a natural background. Orange proved to be the one least likely to draw fire from eager Army personnel in tests made in Massachusetts a few years back.

So we say, go to blazes, you guys. Bish, better get one of those hot orange caps or vests before you leave Friday. We can't stand to lose one man in those north woods, especially not our Jolly Green Giant.

(Note from lino dept. — partiality I calls it — there was no appreciable consternation or ear-drum-bustin' bleating when yours truly embarked on a mission (?) to the Davy Crockett country of bears, boars and beautiful belles, armed only with a $1.98 camera, a pair of field glasses, a frail wife and two buckets of intestinal fortitude. How cum?)

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton were guests of Mrs. Albert Jahn Tuesday, and Ed Lance (Pop), visiting the Dalton Stephensons next door, filled out the table for euchre during the afternoon.

Mrs. Herbert Munger and Mrs. Floyd Bryan plan to leave Nov. 19 for St. Petersburg, Fla., where Mrs. Munger will spend the winter. Mrs. Bryan will be living in Englewood, not far from the Ted McConnells.

√

Cynthia Roll is going to Chamberlain School of Retailing in Boston. She was formerly employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

√

Anna Kay McCann, nurse at Mercy Hospital in Toledo, O., and daughter of Mrs. Helen McCann, is vacationing in San Juan, Puerto Rico. She and two other nurses are expected to return this weekend.

√

Mrs. R. G. B. Marsh, of Boulder, Colo., writes that the good doctor fell during the last week in October and fractured a rib. "He has been quite miserable ever since," she writes. A little surprising is the news of their new dog (?), a Basenji. "She is not very large, only 16 inches high, which is quite different from Duke. (Well, I guess so). She will be a year old Dec. 15."

Nice to hear from the Marshes and we hope the doctor's pain has lessened considerably by now.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth, Jamie and Dwaine Chandler were in Kalamazoo Sunday for the baptism of Laura Elizabeth Guy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guy, Jr. The ceremony took place in the Second Reformed Church of Kalamazoo where Danforths were surprised to find Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonner also in the congregation and the Robert Bonners, Jr., singing in the choir.

√

Dr. Larry Burch writes from Nepal —— "I have been in Africa working two weeks (Burundi), visited in Uganda and Nairobi, Kenya and then flew to Karachi Pakistan. Went from there to Bombay and onto central India, where I worked in a mission hospital. All very interesting and many new experiences. Arrived in Nepal today and spent a lovely afternoon visiting in Kathmandu. Plan to visit a large mission hospital tomorrow and also a Tibetan refugee colony. Will leave for Singapore from here. Hope things are quiet in Tecumseh."

Alcohol Subject at WCTU Session

Noah, the man who built the ark, was the first drunkard. This was one of the facts learned by WCTU members Tuesday when 14 members met at the home of Mrs. Merton Gillan.

Mrs. Oscar Meads presented the program on 75 verses in the Bible referring to drinking.

They also were told that Isaac was drunk when he blessed Jacob, and Lot was drunk when his daughters committed incest.

President Mrs. Floyd Bryan opened the meeting with prayer and a talk on the Ten Commandments for Teenagers.

"Alcohol at the Wheel" was one of the articles read plus another stating that prohibition came in 50 years ago. It was also called the Volstead Act after the instigator, Volstead.

Controversy arose as to whether it helped or hindered the situation.

A Christmas potluck and program will be held Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Perry Hayden. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron will be chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beevers were in Frankenmuth Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Faye Williams. They toured Bronners' Christmas display. Monday night, the Beevers and their granddaughter, Nancy Beevers, went to Fayette, O., to join Mrs. E. S. Oyer of Riverside, Calif., who was called to Fayette by the death of her step-mother, Mrs. Clayton Shaffer. Services were held Tuesday afternoon.

Bob Kelty Shows Slides of Park to Exchange Club

President Doug Dunn welcomed six members of the Adrian Exchange Club to the Tecumseh Exchange Club meeting and dinner, Monday.

Adrian president, Pal Damon, presented a hand-made gavel to the Tecumseh Exchange Club as a token of appreciation and cooperation.

President Dunn welcomed Keith Barron, a former member who has rejoined, and Dr. Graham Foster, who had been absent for two months. May Bailey, pastor of the Tipton Community Church and Tecumseh teacher, was inducted into the Club.

Bob Kelty, seasonal park ranger and instructor in the Tecumseh school system, was the speaker. He presented an interesting and colorful slide program showing his work in the Olympic National Park, near Seattle, Wash. He also showed a number of slides which he took during a visit to Mt. McKinley National Park, Alaska.

PASTOR GLENN F. WILLIAMS

Installing New Pastor

Glenn F. Williams will be installed as pastor of The Open Door Bible Church of Hudson during the morning worship service Sunday at 11 a.m.

A native of Lenawee County, the new pastor was born and raised in Tecumseh and attended Tecumseh Public Schools. He is a veteran of the United States Army.

He married the former Lois Ann Younglove of Britton in August of 1958. They have three children, Timothy, 5; Rita, 2; and Dale, 1.

The family resided in Maryland for 10 years prior to moving back to Michigan in May of this year. Mr. Williams served as organist and on the church board as he received training at the Maryland Bible Institute.

Since returning to Michigan, he has traveled with Master's Men Gospel Quartet, through whom he was first brought in contact with the church in Hudson.

Prior to the move to Maryland and since their return the family has attended Bethel Baptist Church in Britton.

Pastor Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams, 111 S. Maumee St., and is the second of their sons to enter the ministry. Gary is pastor of the Dover Baptist Church near Clare.

The new pastor is currently employed in the advertising department of the Adrian Daily Telegram. He expects to move his family to 226 E. Main St., Hudson, in December.

The public is invited to attend the Sunday service.

This service is sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association and announced by its president, the Rev. Donald C. Porteous. He will assist in the service, along with the host pastor, the Rev. Edmond Watkins.

The public is invited to attend this service, the first time it has been held in Tecumseh.

Schools Have Their Problems

Tecumseh schools had their problems this week, from not enough heat to a little too much.

Monday, a faulty oil gauge at Tecumseh Acres School forced cancellation there of classes. There was no oil — and no heat. The gauge read 2,200 gallons left in the tanks. Heated fuel oil was delivered that day from Ft. Wayne, Ind.

T-A teachers spent Monday in other classrooms, many observing the work being done in special education clases.

Tuesday morning, there was too much heat. School employees, hauling trash and refuse, had the misfortune of the trash catching fire while still on the truck. Local firemen extinguished the blaze before there was too much damage.

Bed of the small stake truck was charred.

TO THE EDITOR:

I was glad to see that someone reminded the American public of the findings of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee DOCUMENT exposing the communist infiltration into the UN activities with special note regarding the UNICEF project.

However, I for one, would be ever so much more happy if this were not true, but I believe we can accept our Senate's word!

There is no question that we today are living in a most difficult society in fact a Questionable Society — yet a very complacent one under the conditions and events that are daily taking toll. We all find that we have more decisions of prime importance to make daily than our ancestors did — weekly or monthly or yearly! However, I believe we deserve no merit for "following the crowd" instead of making our own decisions by seeking out the truth in all matters — when and WHERE a decision is still "ours" to make!

It was suggested we give because it was a non-profit organization and also because of this basis of need was the appeal someone put into the society column of another paper under the heading LOCAL RESIDENTS DEFEND UNICEF—but the article failed to mention the residents but was an appeal in defense of the project.

Regarding UNICEF projects, I decided in 1952 that I could not be a party to this work — because of the Senate investigation and expose of Communists therein.

Our missionaries, too, do battle with the ghettos here and overseas, leaving headlines to Vista and the Peace Corps and also with their sponsorship in International Christian Relief, long before the Governments nationalized charities. I need no communistic co-partner in or administrator of my charitable funds.

People here who allow the emotional pitch of helping hungry children can really help by supporting the missionaries here who go with aid. I ask you to check with your minister, pastor or priest and you will find that the children's souls will be fed as well as their stomachs.

I am not a member of the John Birch Society and I am not discounting all the UN — only that we must reach our goal if we are to maintain a Republic and keep that for which our forefathers attained.

There is so much talk of freedom these days but not enough of what freedom is for. The value of personal liberty rests not upon any punitive divinity, nor upon the naturalness of "natural rights", but upon the plain facts of its social usefulness and indeed — its indispensability in a Republic.

Anyone can write "what's wrong with UNICEF?" to Dr. James T. Shaw, Director, International Christian Relief, 801 Hadden Ave., Collingwood, N. J., 08108, or Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Sincerely,
Mrs. James Feight
1520 Russell Rd.

TO THE EDITOR:

Despite the apparent complete support of the UNICEF Halloween drive (and coming Christmas card drive) by the press at large, there has been no indication of the source or amount of funds, including public donations, nor where they have been allocated. If, as stated, 85% of the U. S. contribution has been spent in the U. S., where did it go? Our own orphanages aren't over-endowed our Appalachian children are as starved as ever, our Indian children are supported (such as it is) by churches and the Public Health Service. Could it be our children are being asked to finance a hoax?

Many times the U. S. Public has been asked to accept at face value some fallacy. (Remember the Gulf of Tonkin?) which on close examination becomes much less desirable (sometimes even quite damaging. Before you rush to join the UNICEF crowd — get all the FACTS you can. Who gets how much money and for what? Are the children's donations, or the directing of their attention toward "One Worldness", the UNICEF goal? Will your UNICEF money really aid the children as you desire? Reread the October 23rd ad and draw your own conclusions.

Respectfully,
Richard and Barbara Prill,
11625 Ridge Hwy.

TO THE EDITOR:

Much adverse publicity has been given to the youth of today. It was my pleasure to have Rick Gunter, president of Student Assembly of Tecumseh High School, as a guest on WLEN "Tecumseh Spotlight", on Veterans Day. I was so impressed by his thoughts I wanted to share them with all your readers.

Sincerely,
Betty J. Flanders
Hostess,
Tecumseh Spotlight
WLEN, 103.9 FM.

"Today's youth are dissatisfied with the evils that exist in America. Young people all over our nation are attacking what they see as bad and unjust.

"Amidst all the cries of bigotry and hypocracy, adults get the impression that America's young are not grateful for everything our preceding generations endured in order to preserve our democracy and build a better way of life.

"On days such as today, we all realize the great effort that was required to push the United States to the heights it now holds, and despite all the misunderstanding our younger generation appreciates what our veterans have done and are grateful for their wartime and peacetime contributions. Their service stands as a model for us.

"So, today, the students of Tecumseh High School are joining the nation in honoring the millions of men and women who have served in America's Armed Forces. We owe them a debt that can only be paid by maintaining and striving to make better the way of life they have sacrificed so much to preserve and protect."

New Books

New books ready for Tecumseh readers at their public library:

ADULT:

AVENUE, by [illegible] field. This is a saga of life on an ordinary London street from the First World War to 1948. This novel is a massive and compulsively readable portrait of English life during this period.

√

THE FRENCH, by Sanche De-Gramont. The author, French-born, American-educated, and truly bi-national, is both critical of and affectionate toward his native land, concious of faults and aware of virtues, and at all times right on the target. He explains precisely why the French are admired, detested, misunderstood and unique.

√

BLAND BUT GRAND, by Edith Peltz. This is a fine collection of recipes which will provide happy eating experiences for the patient on a bland diet as well as for family and guests.

YOUNG ADULTS:

CAREY'S FORTUNE, by Anne Emery. The setting for this young adult novel is Annapolis, year 1800, where the social life was very gay and Nancy enjoyed every minute of it. This is an exciting historical romance about a girl who lived in a time remarkably like our own. Another of the novels by the popular Anne Emery.

√

There are also many more books in the "so you want to be" series.

JUNIOR BOOKS:

MISS PICKERELL GOES ON A DIG, by Ellen MacGregor. The amazing Mis Pickerell, complete with knitting bag and black umbrella, is off on another expedition. This time, she's involved in the mystery and adventure of an archaeological dig.

√

DANNY DUNN AND THE SMALLIFYING MACHINE, by Jay Williams. It all began the day Danny thought he saw a man following his friend, Profesor Bullfinch. Lately the Professor had been working on a project he wouldn't tell Danny about, and Danny's curiosity began to work overtime. Another delightful story in the Danny Dunn series.

SMALL FRY BOOKS:

BAD ISLAND, by William Steig. Bad Island, a volcanic island where fantastic creatures take baths in hot lava and eat tempting meals of poison ivy, cactus and thorns. Until one day — "a flower miracuously appears . . . ." After that the island changed, birds came and the island became a beautiful island.

√

RUMPLE NOSE-DIMPLE AND THE THREE HORRIBLE SNAPS, by Robert Kraus. Rumple would have been very happy living alone except for the three horrible snaps who made his life miserable. One day . . . Rumple snapped back and the conclusion of the story will amuse and delight young readers as well as their parents.

√

GASTON'S GHASTLY GREEN THUMB, by Robert Littell. Do you use your thumb as a fork-loader at the dinner table? Gaston did, and as a result, he had to tend the world's weidrest garden that he learns his lesson in table manners.

WINNING TOUCHDOWN — Halfback Ken Pieh is buried beneath this pile-up on the goal line but the all-league back was over to put the Indians ahead of Adrian in the fourth quarter. Fullback Frank Geisenhaver set up the score with a 58-yard run to the four. The Indians tallied again in the final period to hand Adrian its second straight setback by Tecumseh.

Church Burning Mortgage Sunday

A mortgage-burning ceremony was a part of the morning worship service at the Church of the Nazarene Sunday.

Dr. E. W. Martin, of Howell, superintendent of the eastern Michigan district Church of Nazarene, gave the sermon "Let's Do Something Reckless for Jesus Christ."

He likened the local church's action as a step of faith, just as was Jesus' step from the boat to walk on the water, both a bit reckless, but significant demonstrations of faith.

Dr. Martin presided at the mortgage-burning ceremony at the close of his sermon.

Also taking part in the ceremony was Myrle Lawhead of Britton, chairman of the official board. Former pastor, Dale Harvey, offered a prayer.

The Rev. Herbert Nation is pastor of the Church of the Nazarene which began construction in August, 1967. It was dedicated Jan. 4, 1969. The new sanctuary, located at 807 Sunset at Chicago Blvd., seats 200.

With an eye to the future, Dr. Erwin Benson recently came to help with the planning for the departmentalizing of Sunday School rooms in the basement. Other plans call for the parking area to be blacktopped in June.

Revival Services will be held at the Church of the Nazarene, Nov. 28 through Dec. 7, with the Rev. Leonard Hubart, of Huntington, Ind., conducting the evening services at 7 p.m., and at 11 a.m., Sunday.

Ladies Organize at Gloria Dei

Two groups of ladies of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church were organized last week.

Mrs. Lee Fall, Jr., was elected chairman and Mrs. Don Geringer, secretary, for the evening sessions. Mrs. Ted Todd is chairman and Mrs. Dean Sheldon, secretary, for the afternoon meetings.

Both groups chose the Gospel of St. Matthew for Bible study with a new approach called "The Creative Marking System".

A third group for morning hours is under the organization of Mrs. William Rohweder, president.

The first two groups will join ladies of Christ, the Redeemer Lutheran Church in a meeting Thursday in Adrian.

The Rev. William Marquardt, missionary to Liberia, will tell of his long missionary experience in Africa.

27 Luther Leaguers Are Entertained

Marianne, Michael and James Bush of Britton entertained 27 Luther Leaguers of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Sunday.

Mrs. Earl Mason led the young people in an hour of singing and praising God with enthusiasm.

John Rumpf led the devotions.

Luther Leaguers will sponsor a sauerkraut supper Saturday, Nov. 22, at 6 p.m., for members of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller, sponsors of the Leaguers with the help of the Youth Committee, wish to prepare an enjoyable evening for those who like a good time with teen agers. No charge will be made.

Those who prefer a potluck style instead of sauerkraut are welcome. Committee members request that those attending bring table service and a dish to pass.

Council Ponders Sewer Problems

CLINTON — Kathy Thomas of Water Wheel Mobile Estates attended the meeting of the Clinton Village Council, Wednesday night, to discuss the completion of the water and sewer installation at the new development. Because of the questions which arose, President John Truesdale is arranging for a special meeting next week with officials of the State and County Health Departments to determine satisfactory solutions to the problems which have arisen concerning the sewer system.

Ray Bellmore was present to discuss the condition of his property on W. Michigan Ave., and was given six months to comply with the building codes.

Since a building permit has not been forthcoming from the new school building, that matter was tabled until the next meeting.

A letter of resignation was read from Village Assessor Arthur Rudel, and accepted regretfully, effective Dec. 1.

Recreation News

by WARD EARDLEY

Lenawee Chiefs started their 1969-70 hockey season Monday night, and it appears at this point that it will be a solid season for the local icemen.

The Chiefs have a 21-game schedule with 4 teams from the Jackson area. Teams comprising the league are the Lenawee Chiefs, Michigan Bell, Coldwater and Everett. Games which will all be played at the new Jackson Sports Arena.

One of Tecumseh's former athletes, Doug Goldsberry, is starting with the Chiefs. Knowledgeable hockey buffs in the Jackson area have indicated that the Chiefs are playing a good calibre of hockey.

It is hoped that interest will be shown throughout Lenawee County with moral support as these boys have given much of their time and money to see this program succeed.

It is also the desire of the Tecumseh Recreation Department as well as the team that this newest athletic venture be a success and through it more interest be created to help our youngsters learn more about a ever-growing popular sport.

* * *

The Tecumseh Recreation Department is featuring a movie designed for the young adult Friday night, Nov. 13, at 7 p.m. This movie will include both Junior and Senior High age groups, and it's a "W. C. Fields Whopper."

* * *

A good family night of entertainment will be furnished Saturday at 7 p.m., when the first "Family Night Movie" will be shown at the Community Center.

Again, price is nominal, and is required only to pay for the rental of the movie, so Mom and Dad, plan on bringing the youngsters and enjoy a good old fashioned movie that all of you can enjoy.

* * *

Ladies don't forget the Tuesday night basketball and volleyball night every Tuesday night at Patterson School. Starting time is 7:30. You never know who you will meet and it a lot of fun — and you get some exercise!

Lori Swims to Victory

Lori Hohenstein swam to win again Saturday when the Lenawee County YMCA won a meet with the Jackson Y.

Lori came in first on the 100-yard breast stroke and was one of the 200-yard medley relay and 200-yard free style teams to win.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hohenstein, 915 Red Mill Dr.

There were 21 individual first place winners.

Over 50 boys and girls are on the Lenawee team, 14 from Delta, O., one from Tecumseh and the rest from Adrian.

Bruce Carper, instructor, welcomes other young swimmers from the Tecumseh area.

The Adrian group will host the meet with Kalamazoo Nov. 29.

Eidson Speaking

George Eidson will show slides and speak on Special Education Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 8 p.m., for members of the Lenawee County Medical Assistants in the First Federal Savings and Loan Building in Adrian.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

HOW CAN I KNOW GOD'S WILL?

Romans 12, verses 1 and 2 describe the conditions necessary to meet in order to know God's will. There are three things noticed there.

See here one needs to surrender to God. This is to be bodily. This means God wants to run my life and your life. He wants to direct our talk, walk, thoughts, actions, pleasures and our overall existence. This seems to be asking too much to some people. However, if you cannot trust one who died for you — whom can you trust?

Secondly, it is seen that separation from the secular world is needed. This is called a transformation and not a conformation. God wants us to be a Show Case for His Salvation.

Thirdly, there is here a renewed mind which we call a Spiritual mind. If one is saved, God does something to his thinking so that he dislikes what he used to like and likes what he formerly disliked. This change is only from God.

If these three conditions are present we may be assured that God will reveal His will to us. Romans 12:2 says so.

If you have any questions, please write Pastor McNeil, Tecumseh Herald.

Book Week Is "Book Power"

Joyce Woods, Tecumseh Public Librarian, has announced that Children's Book Week will be Nov. 16-22 with the theme, "Book Power."

Book Week was instituted in 1921 by Frederic Melcher who used the theme, "More Books in the Home."

Years have changed the organization of the Children's Book Council, but the idea is still the same.

"Book Week brings us together to talk about books and reading and, out of our knowledge and love of books, to put the cause of children's reading squarely before the whole community and, community by community, across the whole nation. For a great nation is a reading nation, and in this broad country of ours, books should be freely available for every boy and girl. Until they are freely available we have a great task." This is a quote from a brief history of National Children's Book Week.

The staff of the Tecumseh Public Library would be happy to welcome all parents, teachers, and students of the Tecumseh School District as they visit the library during children's book week.

Many services are offered the community by the library, and one especially is story-time for small fry, held every Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

The library is open these hours to give help and advise in selecting books.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 1 to 9 p.m.

Friday, 1 to 6 p.m.

Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Library materials are loaned for 14 and 28 days, and include many other items besides books, such as maps, sheet music, records, pictures, magazines, newspapers, telephone directories, college catalogs, investment, information and advisory services.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

So today's teen-agers are no good little hippies and street-walkers. The naughty "little kids" are drinking and smoking, too. Oh, you say, that fits the description of your teen-age son or daughter? Well, isn't that something!

Did you, as parents, ever sit down and talk to them as to why your son got an illegal possession ticket? Oh, your son doesn't drink? Well, how about the neighbor's children? And your daughter how about the cigarets in her purse?

Well, what's left for us to do?

Most shows are off limits now because of the M (mature audiences), R (restricted to 16 yrs. of age and older), and X (persons over 18 years of age only) ratings. The only places to go now days are bars with mod bands and a big dance floor but you must be 21 to get in. There's always the Wamplers or Devils Lake pavilions. That's just great if you're between the ages of 13-17. So what's left? Well, they ask for permission to drive the family car so they are now on their way to Berkey, O., or Toledo. They smoke so everyone will think they are older than they are, then they go into the teen-age hang-outs and drink 3.2 beer and have a real great time.

But why not? They were forbidden to go to the shows. What else is there to do? It's too cold to street walk. So think about it a while, please.

We're not all that bad. We just thrive on good times that we're not capable of having until we're 21 years of age and older. Is all of that really so wrong? A terrific idea would be a place for the ones 17-20 and up, to go and have some good clean fun. Bands and dance floor is the only necessity.

[illegible] keep your teen-agers out of trouble?

TO THE EDITOR:

I wish to take this means to say thank you to the folk that were so kind to us in our years in Britton.

We are getting into the harness here in the Soo at the Calvary Baptist Church. This church is about the same size as the Britton church. We have a 15-minute radio program three days a week. It will be a vocal version of 'Pastor 'Til Me.'

I wish to say a special thank you to Pat Meadows who not only advised and assisted us but became a fine friend. Also, to John Zeigler for all the needed advice and all his help through all the years. Many business folk in Britton and Tecumseh were true friends and we appreciate it.

Of course, we have said and will say for a long time that the Britton Baptist folk are the greatest. They deserve a lot of credit for putting up with us.

Thanks, again, to everyone.

"Hodge-Podge

It's that time again — the pieces and bits of "vitally important" information are piling up and so, if Betty F. will let me borrow back, here we go with a smattering of things you can hardly "live without."

Take porcupines for instance. Take them carefully, though, those quills are sharp. The porky, by the way, cannot throw his quills. Once contact is made, however, these quills easily pull out of the porcupine and quickly work into his victim. Microscopic barbs on the tip make them not only difficult to remove but, in fact, tend to make them dig deeper and deeper. Ouch!

Rather unusual in Mother Nature's world is the fact that this member of the rodent family, which, as a whole, is so prolific, produces only one youngster. But what a youngster it is. A black bear, often weighing hundreds of pounds, will give birth to a half-pound baby; a 12 to 20-pound female porcupine's infant will be a whopping pound or more. Again, ouch!

★

HOW WOULD YOU like to meet Mrs. Ann Morton, a commercial photographer? If you are fortunate (?) enough to be a dinner guest in her home, you should perhaps be alert for some rather unique entertainment.

At one time, Mrs. Morton had a spider who lived in her fireplace and every evening, for three months straight, he appeared just after dinner-time.

For the next 45 minutes, visitors were entertained by the exciting spectacle of watching a 22-inch orb web being spun. How's that for laughs?

This is quite an amazing woman. She travels the country photographing and lecturing about spiders. She has perfected a technique of close-up "spider picture taking" and has files bulging with more than "3,000 color photographs of 266 species of spiders in their natural habitat." This is what happens when a hobby gets out of hand.

And speaking of spiders, did you know that: the tarantula will live 25 to 30 years. There is one patriotic spider who is colored red, white and blue, the recluse, and the black widow are the only two poisonous spiders in the country, and, with the exception of the saliticids or jumping spiders most have extremely poor eyesight?

★

HOW IS THIS for a tongue-twisting title? In the Tellico Wildlife Management Area, at the Pheasant Field Station, the Tennesee Game and Fish Commission is conducting a European Hog Research Project — wow!! Although further studies pertaining to nutrition, disease, breeding, etc., have been most successful, the first experiment was a dismal failure.

They tried, by weighing the eye lens, to determine the age of wild boars. Apparently this can be done with rabbits, foxes, and antelope but the wild boars' weight varied too much for any degree of accuracy. Who would ever think to correlate the age of an animal with the weight of the lens of his eye or, as far as that goes, who would think of weighing a lens in the first place?

The interest in boars is growing because they are now considered a game animal in both North Carolina, and Tennesee. They roam the Smoky Mountains, seeking out the most inaccesible areas, thus making the hunting very sporty. Although an accurate population count has not been made, it is known that the original stock was brought to Hooper's Bald in North Carolina in 1912 and consisted of only 14 young animals.

The plan was to keep them in captivity but they had other ideas. Ugly in both disposition and appearance, today's wild hogs will weigh up to 400 pounds, have tusks which are incredibly sharp, be quick and agile when attacking, and yes, they will charge anything, including a man, with slight provocation. The best adjective for them is 'mean'.

So it is that porcupines, spiders and wild boars — —ugh; I shall try to pick more attractive subjects for the next addition of "Hodge - Podge."

NEXT WEEK:
"A Case of Perfect Timing."

Speech Program Is Explained At PTO Session

Mrs. Edwin Wight, speech correctionist for Lenawee County gave an informative talk Wednesday at the meeting of the Ridgeway-Macon Parent Teachers Organization Wednesday on the speech development process and illustrated with humorous pictures.

She also talked of the speech correction program in the schools.

Mrs. Harley Slick, president, opened the business meeting by introducing teachers, officers, and Thelma Youngclove, a life member of the PTO.

Membership dues were accepted and a kick-ball was won by Mr. Meyer's fifth grade class, for having the most parents present.

With a profit of $469.07 from a pancake supper last year, it was voted to purchase the following items for the schools: portable stage unit, wooden train set, listening station, camera and film dictionaries, and some small tools for handicraft work.

So successful was the pancake supper last year, it was decided to have one this year on Feb. 20. Volunteer co-chairmen are Mrs. John Escott and Mrs. Pat Connors. Other committees were named.

Thursday evening, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m., Det. David L. Snyder, of the Lenawee Sheriff's Dept., will be at the Ridgeway School to talk about the drug problem in Lenawee County. Interested parents and children are urged to attend.

Open house for Ridgeway School will be on Dec. 3, and Macon School, Dec. 17.

Iron

People who regularly swallow iron tonics and iron pills, without medical supervision may actually be harming themselves. By blaming symptoms on "iron poor blood," they may be delaying the diagnosis of a condition that's far more serious than iron deficiency.

Dr. Jack Pritchard, University of Texas gynecologist, says that constant fatigue is no more common among people with iron deficiency than among those without it. Along with irritability and shortness of breath — the signs of intense anemia—it may indicate an underlying problem that should be corrected.

For example, many cancers cause anemia. To treat the symptom without attacking the cause may mean that the growth will advance beyond the treatment stage.

"Women are somewhat more likely to need extra iron, but most of them never need an iron supplement," Dr. Pritchard said. "There's no reason to think iron will make them feel better, or that it will improve their health."

Your doctor may suggest that there isn't enough iron in your diet (which is usually obtained from red meat and liver, rather than from spinach) and he'll recommend an iron supplement. He will know enough about your total physical condition to advise this temporary measure.

But taking pills endlessly on your own, as the result of self-diagnosis, is abusing a potentially useful medication.

CHS Presents 'Pajama Game'

The Clinton High School Music and Drama Departments announces the presentation of the musical, "Pajama Game," Nov. 20, 21 and 22, at the school auditorium at 8 p.m.

The play centers around a pajama factory that makes Sleep-Tite Pajamas in Cedar Rapids, Ia. Sid Sorokin, a very conscientious and ambitious man, has just been hired as a foreman in a pajama factory.

In taking this new job, he runs into a dispute between the management and the girl workers. Opposition arises when Babe, head of the grievance committee of the union, strikes for more wages. Sid, of the management, falls for her, but it is inevitable that there is a clash between them.

The situation is not helped by the intriguing goings-on between Hines, the efficiency expert, and Gladys, the private secretary of the boss. Gladys wears the key to the company books around her neck with instructions from the boss that no one is to get it. Sid, trying to get to the bottom of the dispute and trying to take a look at the books by getting the key, makes a play for Gladys. Hines is insanely jealous of Gladys and threatens Sid.

Six leading roles have now been cast for this comical play: Sid, Eric Sparks; Babe, Debbie Gibbard; Prez, Jim Claus; Mabel, Rebecca Scoviac; Hines, Tracy Vogel; Gladys, Judy Hoyt and Jeannie Meeks.

Five Accepted by Half Notes

Five [illegible] were comed to the Half Notes Music Club Friday at the United Methodist Church.

The lesson, given by the president, was on "Dances of the 17th and 18th Centuries."

Tim Packard and Cathy Hall presented the program. Tim sang and played a piano solo and "Faith of Our Fathers" on the song flute.

Cathy played "A Waltzing Bird" on the piano and sang "Drink To Me Only with Thine Eyes."

Tammy Downing served refreshments to 11 members present.

The next meeting will be Dec. 5 at the same place.

What Is A Suspended Ceiling?

Armstrong

A SUSPENDED CEILING IS REALLY A SIMPLE MECHANICAL SYSTEM, MADE UP OF A FEW EASY-TO-INSTALL COMPONENT PARTS:

1. Hanger wires—carry the ceiling system. They can be any length, allowing you to adjust the finished height of the suspended ceiling to your liking.

2. Grid suspension system—consists of tee-shaped main runners and cross tees which are hung from the wires and carry the ceiling panels and lighting fixtures.

3. Lay-in ceiling panels—make up the ceiling surface and are installed by laying them into the grid system. Panels are washable and repaintable. Because they lay loosely in the grids, they can be replaced if damaged, and provide easy accessibility to the space above.

4. Lighting fixtures—are optional, but it's a good idea to install them when you're hanging the ceiling. Armstrong supplies several types of fixtures that are designed to fit as integral parts of the complete ceiling.

5. Luminous panels—are used with Armstrong lighting fixtures. They lay in the grid system, softly diffusing light, and providing modern recessed lighting for the room below.

A Thanksgiving Eve ecumenical service, for the first time it has been held in Tecumseh, will be held next Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Presbyterian Church.

FR. ROBERT HANDLEY

The Rev. Robert J. Handley, priest at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, will speak on a Thanksgiving theme. Others participating in the program are Wallace Whiting, Dr. George Burkhard and the Presbyterian senior choir.

The service is being sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Donald C. Porteous, president of the association, will assist at the service, along with the Rev. Edmond Watkins, host pastor.

The public is invited to attend.

2 Peddlers in Prison

Robert Clewis, 21, of 708 Seneca St., and Jerry Gainey, 21, rural Tecumseh, have been sentenced by Judge Rex Martin to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for selling narcotics.

The two youths were arrested by Tecumseh and State Police early in October and Gainey has been held in the county jail since. Clewis was released on $1,500 bond.

At the time they were charged with buying marijuana and LSD tablets in Ann Arbor and selling it to youths here.

Judge Martin sentenced Gainey Monday to one and one-half to 10 years in prison, and Clewis, two and one-half to 10 years on Tuesday.

Although there had been rumors of narcotic peddling here, their arrests were the first made.

Boy, 15, Accidentally Killed by Brother

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Rodney Ries, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Eula Ries of 301 E. Kilbuck St. and Arnold Ries, Toledo, who was killed instantly Saturday afternoon at his home.

According to police and family sources, the Tecumseh High School sophomore was sitting at a kitchen table when his brother, Bradley, 16, thinking a 16 gauge pump shotgun was unloaded, aimed it and pulled the trigger.

The slug, fired from the living room, struck Rodney in the back of the head, killing him instantly.

Earlier in the day, Bradley and another brother, Mark, had been deer hunting. At the time of the accident, they were preparing to go hunting again.

Mrs. Ries was in another room at the time of the shooting and first thought the explosion was her stove blowing up. Bradley then came rushing up and exclaimed, "I didn't know the gun was loaded."

Police were called at 4:27 and were unable to thoroughly question Bradley about the details of the shooting. Coroner Donald Dunmore pronounced Rodney dead at the scene.

Rodney was born July 8, 1954, at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Survivors, besides his mother, father and two brothers, are: two sisters, April, at home, and Mrs. Paul Byers of Bradenton, Fla.; his grandparents, Mrs. Mildred Meads of Tecumseh, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ries, Morenci; and a niece and several nephews.

Services were held at the Tecumseh Friends Church with the Rev. Paul Brantingham officiating. Proctor Funeral Home was in charge of burial at Lenawee Hills Memorial Gardens.

Inform Public Is Board Aim

Organizational plans to inform the public about the needs for a new high school were instigated by the School Board Monday night.

Selected on a committee were William Macbeth, Fred Freeman and William Brown, all Board members.

Tentative plans were made for general meetings with the public at the Ridgeway, Tipton and Patterson elementary schools and at the Junior High. There sessions will include question-answer periods.

Wednesday night the Board was scheduled to meet with principals, representatives of the Tecumseh Teachers Association, architects, and with sales personnel from the Tecumseh Products, including Ken Goldmann, company advertising and sales promotion manager.

On Feb. 10, school district voters will be asked to approve eight mills or $9,700,000 for a new high school and for remodeling at the present high school.

Additional information, including a brochure for distribution, will be made available to the public before the vote.

Baptists Dedicate 300 New Hymnals

A feature of the morning worship service in the First Baptist Church, Sunday will be the dedication of 300 new hymnals.

Half of the new hymnals were given to the church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morse by their nieces and nephews.

Rest of the hymnals were given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ashley by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Ashley.

A special organist's copy and the pastor's hymnal were given the church by Mrs. George Everett and family, in memory of George Everett.

This will also be the Thanksgiving service, and it will be followed by a coffee hour to honor the hymnal donors.

Father, Son Are Killed In Accident

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Adrian for William Gould, 24, and his one and a half-year-old son, who were killed Sunday afternoon on M-52 near Russell Rd., about three miles west of Tecumseh.

The young father was the son of Dan Gould, 1005 Red Mill Dr., a Tecumseh real estate agent.

He was pronounced dead at the scene and his son, Mark, was taken to Herrick Hospital and then to University Hospital in Ann Arbor. He died about four hours later from head injuries.

Beverly Gould, wife and mother, was admitted to Herrick Hospital with a broken right arm and minor cuts.

Three cars were involved in the mishap which was started by a deer running into the path of a car driven by James Kaufman, 25, of Bryan, O. Although he suffered just minor injuries, a passenger with him, Carol Hake, 19, of Montpelier, was taken to Herrick Hospital and then transferred to Ann Arbor with severe head injuries.

Third auto was driven by Richard Torres, 21, of Columbus, O. He and a passenger suffered minor injuries.

Kaufman's car, after striking the deer, veered into the southbound lane and struck the Gould car almost headon. The Gould vehicle was then struck again by Torres' auto.

William Gould was born in Detroit Nov. 26, 1945, but lived most of his life in Adrian. He graduated from Adrian High School in 1963 and from Western Michigan University in 1968.

He was an outstanding athlete, holding shot put records at both schools and was captain of the WMU track team during his senior year.

Survivors, besides his wife and parents, are: two sisters, Connie and Sally, at home; and a brother, Warren, a graduate student at Michigan State University.

Mark, who was born July 19, 1968, is survived by his mother and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pariseau, of Plymouth.

Aid, Assessment in Dam Project

Application for state assistance for rebuilding Globe Mill Pond dam was given approval by Council Monday night when Cal Zorn, city manager, told officials that necessary application information was now available.

If successful, the city would receive $3.83 per capita or $26,982, based on Tecumseh's 1960 census. Total estimated cost for restoration of the dam is $61,824, including $15,000 for the purchase of the land.

A special assessment of property owners on the pond would raise about $30,790 at $2 per water frontage foot.

Under the proposed special assessment plan, Dr. M. R. Blanden would pay the most. The local physician, according to city figures, has 3,406 feet on the pond and his assessment would total $6,812.

City of Tecumseh has 2,043 feet and would pay $4,086. Tecumseh schools have 1,282 feet and their costs would be $2,564 under the $2 per water frontage foot.

Drive at $67,591

A few additional contributions have now been reported for the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive, raising the campaign total to $67,591, according to Merlyn Downing, drive chairman.

This year's campaign was one of the most successful ever conducted here, going about $7,500 over the $59,831 goal.

Although there was some discussion as to possible changes in the code, according to Supt. James McDowell, the board was not in favor of abolishing it.

The Board took no action.

Last week after an open house at the high school, students discussed abolishing the dress code. Most of the parents at the meeting were in favor of keeping it.

Car Skids, Flips Injuring 2 Men

Rain and ice were contributing factors for several accidents investigated the past week by Tecumseh police, but neither were involved in a mishap which sent two rural men to Herrick Hospital.

Last Thursday night, a speeding auto driven by Danny K. Cantrell, 21, of 5422 Centennial Rd., slid sideways across Russell Rd., and between a pole and sign post before flipping on its top in a field just south of the highway.

Cantrell and his passenger, Dan Van Sickle, 21, of 8998 Tipton Rd., were headed south on Occidental Rd. and were unable to stop for a stop sign and make the sharp turn.

The car skidded 136 feet and landed on its top some 205 feet from the point where Cantrell started braking. Tecumseh firemen were summoned to free one of the youths from the car.

Both were taken to the hospital, but neither were hurt seriously. Cantrell was charged with reckless driving.

A resume of other mishaps is:

Nov. 13 — Edwin R. Scheffler, 18, of 11230 Macon Rd., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after driving into the rear of a car operated by George C. Wilson, 45, Clinton. Accident occurred on W. Chicago at Cairns.

Audit Shows Finances OK

An audit last week of District Court penal fines and costs showed that all financial accounting at the court is in order, according to a statement released to Council Monday night by James Beardsley.

In his letter to city officials, he said a written report has yet to be received, but the city auditors have assured him that financial accounting at the court, local police department, and at the county clerk and treasurer offices are in order.

Mr. Beardsley, who felt at the Nov. 3 Council meeting that Tecumseh was not receiving all its monies from penal fines and costs, said that the reduced revenues are directly traceable to state legislation.

In his letter, he stated that a resolution would be prepared and presented to Council for forwarding to Representative Robert Stites. The resolution would urge corrective legislation that would permit municipalities to regain some of their lost revenue.

It was pointed out that Ernest Oliver, Tecumseh magistrate, is handling all cases which he is permitted to handle under the present state laws.

Mr. Beardsley said the resolution to Rep. Stites also would urge greater jurisdiction for Mr. Oliver.

The local attorney reported in his letter that the court and county officials were most cooperative with the auditors.

She was driving the Oldsmobile on M-50 when a big one popped in front of her, causing $500 damage to the car.

"We are going to eat venison all winter," Mrs. Spohr remarked Tuesday. Seems they kept the one she got, too.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Putative is the word this week. It's quite different from punative, meaning inflicting, involving or aiming at punishment. Putative is defined — "commonly accepted or supposed, reputed." This was the word that should have been used in last week's paper in a letter to the editor.

Obloquy — word for the week as found in Hugh Walter's letter to the editor. It's a good word for condemnatory language.

"Just a nanosecond, please." What's that? A billionth of a second. A time measurement used to measure the operating speed of a computer. Add that one to your list.

There would be much "Thanksgiving" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brooks, 311 W. Logan St., if the persons taking their black cream can from the porch at 3 a.m. after Halloween would return same. The loss shakes the faith in humanity of the retired farm people who, up until now, have never lost anything and have enjoyed sharing the bit of antiquity with neighbors and friends as they come and go.

It was Bill Wright's grandmother, the late Mrs. C. A. Wright, who was first president of Monday Club. Bill's mom, Mrs. Donald Wright, is the lady who now lives in California at Laguna Hills.

"You have to see it to believe it," was Jim Record's remark Monday after he received the specially-delivered huge bouquet of dead flowers and greens. Things on the gridiron didn't go as Jim had planned when his alma mater, University of Iowa, played MSU last Saturday. The score was 51-6 favoring MSU.

IPPB Bought for Hospital

Many contributions have been made to the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Heart Fund in the past.

To date, approximately $26,000 has been spent on the intensive coronary care unit at the hospital.

Anyone wishing to contribute at any time may do so at the hospital, the funeral homes, or at the United Savings Bank.

The most recent purchase was a breathing machine known as an "IPPB" machine which is already in use.

An electrocardiograph machine, better known as an "EKG" machine has been ordered and will be used in the unit.

In a changing world it is reasonable that changes and additions will be needed to keep the coronary care unit functioning at peak performance.

The community can look to the intensive coronary care unit with pride for it has taken a combined effort to bring this unit to a full realization at the hospital.

The "heart team" at the hospital consists of Dr. R. E. Dustin, Dr. J. B. Bachman and Dr. Fabck, the new internist in town.

Register for Tests

Tecumseh High School students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements and to enter college in 1971 can register in the guidance office to participate in the 1970-71 National Merit Scholarship Program.

NMSQT participants pay $1.25 test fee. If an unusually promising student is unable to pay the test fee, it will be paid by NMSQT at the request of the principal.

When his NMSQT scores are reported, each participating student will receive a handbook to help him understand his scores and compare his test performance with that of other high school students across the country.

The handbook, which contains information about making college choices and financing a college education, is furnished as a part of reporting the student's test results. Other interpretative materials are sent to the school.

The highest-scoring students in each state will be named Merit Program Semi-finalists and will be eligible for Merit Scholarship consideration.

In addition to the National Merit Scholarships financed by NMSQT, more than 400 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associates, unions, trusts, other organizations and individuals offer scholarships through the Merit Program.

Bill Bartenslager of 800 Occidental Hwy., got an eight-point buck Monday while hunting near Stauffer Chemical Co.

11-POINTER — Burton Weitenhagen, 201 Iroquois, bagged this fellow with a big rack at 8 a.m., Saturday, while hunting with his father, Carl W. Weitenhagen, and a friend, Clair Force of Fairfield, near Iron River in the Upper Peninsula. "You sort of lose interest in hunting after you get a big one like that," Burt commented.

Junior Class in Harvey

"Harvey," a famous broadway comedy, is being recreated by the Junior Class of Tecumseh High School.

The production will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Glass Room at the Community Center. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Bob Aten plays the lead role of Elwood Dowd. Lee Ann Schneider is Veta Louise Simmons and Katie Crause, Myrtle Mae Simmons.

Supporting the lead are Nurse Kelly, Julie Desmet; Dr. Sanderson, Corky Hunt; Mrs. Chumley, Jeannie Bowser and Dr. Chumley, Mark Roberts.

The maid is played by Vicki Carpenter; Mrs. Chauvenet, Pat Weigle; E. J. Lofgren, Lolis Rebottaro; Mr. Wilson, Dave Hall and Judge Gaffney, Steve Church.

The plot centers around Elwood P. Dowd and his friend, Harvey, an invisible six-foot rabbit. Elwood and Harvey cause great embarrassment and many problems for Elwood's sister, Veta Louise and niece, Myrtle Mae.

Veta's plan to have Elwood committed to an institution backfires with hilarious consequences.

Shelly Mengerink is assistant director and Donna Springer is stage manager with Mrs. Nancy Kinnard, director.

Chiefs Win

Lenawee Chiefs turned back a strong Coldwater hockey team Monday night for a perfect 2-0 record and an early lead in the Jackson Senior Hockey League.

The county's black and gold clad puckmen defeated Coldwater, 4-2, in a tough defensive struggle. Although losing, Coldwater will probably be the team that the Chiefs will be concerned with most during the season.

Geisenhaver Is Given 'Mention' for Huron League

Frank Geisenhaver, Indians' fullback, inadvertantly was omitted last week from the list of Tecumseh players who gained all-league status.

He made honorable mention All-Huron League along with Bob Hackett and Mike Kennedy. Ken Pieh, Steve Tilton and Jack Greenfield were all-league and Earl Ruttkofsky was picked for the second team.

Who doesn't like to be remembered? It's natural to feel a certain glow when you receive a greeting card. It means that someone has thought of you, that someone cares.

Yet how foolish it would be for any of us to ever believe that we are alone or friendless. There is always Someone who cares, who cares very deeply . . . who cared enough to sacrifice His only Son for us.

At times, we are all lonesome. Yet we are never really alone. There are few places in the world where we cannot, if we but look, find a church that will welcome us wholeheartedly. God's house is not like other houses. There is always room in it for one more. And when that one more has entered, there is room for yet another.

Start taking part in the life of the Church today!

Armstrong has reflected great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.

Church Hosting After Worship

Something new in church family dinners will be held Sunday morning following the Sunday School hour in the Fellowship Hall of the United Methodist Church.

Scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m. is a family potluck dinner. Members are being asked to bring a meat dish plus another dish to pass as well as table service for each member of the family.

The church ovens will be heated so that persons attending the worship service can bring their dishes with them and keep them warm during the morning.

In connection with this event, being coordinated by the membership and evangelism work area, will be a display of Bibles — old, new, unusual ones — offered by members of the congregation for the event. This collection is a part of National Bible Week.

Members of the church are also reminded to bring their gifts of commercially canned fruits, jellies, etc., for the residents of the Methodist Home in Chelsea.

Following the church dinner, members of the Senior High and Junior High Youth Fellowships will take the foods to the home.

Impala's hidden persuaders:
① 350-cu.-in. engine — A new more powerful standard 250-hp V8 makes the 1970 Impala move with all the more assurance. On good ol' regular gas.
② Anti-theft column lock — A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your ignition but your steering wheel as well.
③ Aluminized exhaust system — It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to. Fair enough?
⑤ Inner fenders — Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.
⑥ Flush and dry — We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out. Air follows to do the drying.
⑦ Full Coil suspension — Huge coil springs at all four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low-priced car has any right to.

Letters To the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I think this article would be of interest to Tecumseh Herald readers in view of what is going on throughout this country.

Think! United State's downfall was plotted 50 years ago.

In May of 1919 at Dusseldorf, Germany, the Allied Forces obtained a copy of some of the "Communist Rules for Revolution." Now, 50 years later, the Reds are still "following the rule." As you read the list, stop after each item and think about the present day situation where you live — and all around our nation. We quote from the Red Rules:

A. Gorrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness.

B. Get control of all means of publicity, thereby:

1. Get people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays and other trivialties.
2. Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance.
3. Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and obloquy.
4. Always preach true democracy, but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible.
5. By encouraging government extravagance, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.
6. Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster lenient and soft attitude on part of the government toward such disorders.
7. By specious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.

C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with a view of confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

Take time to think seriously of the above and draw your own conclusions.

Sincerely,
Hugh T. Walter

TO THE EDITOR:
AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STUDENTS OF TECUMSEH SCHOOLS:

After the recent open house at the Tecumseh High School, a discussion was held in the school library concerning the dress code of the Tecumseh School District.

From what was said at this meeting, you, as students, do not like to be told by anyone other than your parents what you should wear to school. Have you discussed this problem with your parents?

If the parents went along with you students on abolishing the dress code would you, as our children, agree with us when we tell you to let that skirt down a little bit or to get your hair cut shorter than it is? We don't think you would.

You would argue and say that we hated you and everybody else is wearing their hair longer and their skirts shorter so why can't you.

As individual parents we would take much abuse from our children as they would think we were being unfair to them. But as parents standing together backing the school board in their dress code you would know that it is not just a minority but a majority of the parents that are for this dress code.

You say that 76% of the student body voted to have the dress code abolished. I think that if you took a vote of the parents the percentage would be more than that to have the dress code retained.

God put you in our care — and we are trying to do our best to give you the proper upbringing.

With the dress code we believe you have a better chance in going out into the world after graduation. The neater you look, the better your chances are for getting a job. How many of you boys with your long hair would be willing to put on a hair net like the women do who work in the factories? How many of you girls would expect to get a job wearing shorts?

As the Bible says in Proverbs 22: Verse 6 — "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." This, then, is what we are trying to do — our hearts are filled with love for you, please respect us for trying to do what is right.

Concerned parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buell.

Dear Sirs:

The spectacle of the Vice-President of the United States publically castigating TV networks for their alleged bias in news reporting was a logical outcome of an industry which was nationalized from the beginning.

Since the Act of 1927 a government Commission has had total power over the professional fate of broadcasters with the "public interest" as the criterion of judgment while simultaneously forbidding censorship. This was a contradiction in terms impossible to practice.

Given such a contradiction, it was inevitable that a government protected monopoly should be subjected to increasingly harsh intimidation if it failed to comply with standards which the government considered in the "public interest".

Isn't it ironic that the major networks which have been biased in favor of collectivism, statism, and against free enterprise capitalism should cry with indignation when they finally become the target of the very statism which they have been promoting?

In order to protect free speech, there is only one solution which has to start at the base. The airways should be turned over to private ownership by selling radio and TV frequencies to the highest bidders by an objectively defined, open, impartial process.

While the substance of the Vice-President's criticism may be true, still the principle of government censorship is wrong (except in a dictatorship). In the area of broadcasting, the only role of the government in a free country is to write objective laws defining individual rights (as use of frequency, power, etc.).

The issue of free speech is at stake and only private ownership of broadcasting frequencies (i.e. free enterprise capitalism) can save it.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Lorraine Wilson

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHY DO CHRISTIANS SIN?

People are constantly concerned with this question. They say, Christians are supposed to be saved from sin, so why do they still give evidence that there still is sin in their lives. We have to explain some important matters of Biblical Teachings to solve this dilemma.

First of all, one who is converted or saved is indeed saved from sin. This means that his sins are all forgiven and is based on I John 1:7-9. Christ died for our sins. When we place our faith in Him and His substitution for us on the cross, we are forgiven. This forgiveness is immediately in effect, caring for past, present and future sins. Of course, those sins committed after salvation must be confessed to God.

Secondly, we are involved with the subject of the presence of sin in a Christian's present life. The Bible tells plainly that no one can be free of sin in this world — see Romans 3:23, I John 1:8-10 and Gal. 5:17. We have been saved from the penalty of sin, which is Hell. We are being saved progressively from the power of sin, hence the change in the life of one who is the presence of sin when we are with Christ and made like Him.

Thirdly, it is easy to overlook the great change in a life and the obvious work of God there if we only look at this negative side.

The Bible says we are not now what we shall be. The reality of salvation is ours now and we only await the day of Christ's Return and the removal of all sins.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

RECTAL SUPPOSITORIES

More than a hundred over-the-counter and prescription rectal suppository preparations are marketed for the treatment of pain, itching, and bleeding associated with hemorrhoids, fissures, and other anorectal disorders. They are in combination with astringents, antibiotics, vasoconstrictors and anti-spasmotics. Most of the drugs in these preparations were first used in suppositories decades ago, but their effectiveness separately or in combination in relieving pain, itching, or bleeding in anorectal disorders has never been established by controlled clinical trials. Some of the drugs may have beneficial effects; whether or not they do cannot be determined from present evidence. Just the insertion of a suppository into the anorectal canal can have potent psychological effects in many persons. Simple measures for relieving the symptoms of anorectal disorders include avoidance of hard stools by dietary means or mineral oil, and warm-water sitz baths, which may be helpful in reducing spincter spasm and pain. Perianal skin itch may respond to hot water applications or to preparations your personal physician may prescribe.

CONCLUSION . . . There is at present no satisfactory evidence that medicated over the counter rectal suppositories have more than placebo (to humor the patient) effects. Where there is pain, however, suppositories containing local anesthetics your Doctor may prescribe can be useful . . . Hemorrhoids may be a sign of serious underlying pathology, and any self treatment should never be substituted for proper diagnostic studies by your personal physician.

Through My Window

"A CASE OF PERFECT TIMING"

It was a typical late fall morning, rather dull and dreary. Once in a while, the sun made a feeble attempt to break through the cloud cover but, for the most part, the sky was an uninteresting and drab gray. The beautiful fall coloring, so gorgeous and bright such a short time ago, had faded away and although here and there a few leaves still stubbornly hung on, they were shriveled up and brown or a limp blaugh green. There was really not very much to become excited about; in fact, it could very well have turned out to be quite a depressing day.

For a change of pace, I had had my bed twisted around and was looking to the north and west instead of the south and west. Suddenly Louann wondered what those birds were.

For a few minutes they stayed out of my range but then, in a quick burst of co-operativeness, several of the birds in question flew to a perch we could both see. They sat still for two and a half seconds and in unison the exclamation went up, "Cedar waxwings!"

How exciting. A large flock had invaded the neighborhood. They moved from the creek bank, to the clump of barberry by the driveway, to the flowering crab apple bush in Prettymans' yard, and back to the creek bank.

There seems to be a bumper crop of both the small bright red barberries and the larger deeper red crab apples. Apparently advance testers had found some of the fruit at the peak of flavor and the word went out. At least, there were certainly cedar waxwings all over.

★

WHEN THE BIRDS took short breaks from their fruit eating and came towards the creek for a sip of water, a quick bath, or maybe just a few moments of rest, they came into my view. And what a view it was.

One of their favorite stopping off places was the small maple just outside the northern corner of my west-facing window.

A flock of cedar waxwings is definitely not a sedentary thing, it is a constantly moving mass and yet, I was lucky enough once to count eight of the birds sitting in the tree. How lovely — they are soft brown in color, sport small head crests and black eye masks, their posture when on a tree limb is quite erect, and, the best field mark of all, is that each and every one always shows a band of the brightest yellow across the end of his or her tail.

These are not particularly quiet birds either — all day we heard them talking together in their high-pitched, shrill and squeaky voices.

The flock of waxwings came and went but, even when out of sight, things were not dull. In mid-morning I was surprised to glance across the creek and see a robin.

He was sitting back and forth on a long horizontal branch, acting just as if he had every right in the world to be there. Most of his relatives had left for the sunny southland weeks ago.

I wondered why this lone wolf was lagging behind. He was a handsome fellow; his bright red breast, black head and plump round body made him look in prime springtime condition.

A bit later, a large flicker stole the spotlight. He was all fluffed out against a cold and biting north wind. Even so he was a pretty thing.

★

ALSO PRETTY WAS the pair of cardinals who flew by occasionally. Could they be this year's young? The male was beautifully red, but there were traces of darker and more brownish red on his back.

The tufted titmice have finally attained full adulthood — or, at least as far as their appearance goes, they have 'made it.'

Their smooth gray feathers were just as trim and neatly in place as could be and, as they dropped down to the near-my-window feeder for quick bites of sun flower seeds, we were glad to notice that they had the same big and sparkly black eyes as ever.

The up-side-down nuthatches were showing grown-up color and slickness, too.

Squirrels roamed the yards and trees almost constantly. It was still nut-burying time and oh, how busy-busy-busy!

The starlings who wandered through, the one forlorn-looking and lonesome-acting grackle, and the hordes of sparrows, deserve no comment here, except, in all truthfulness, I must admit that they did contribute to the hustle and bustle of the day.

The blue jays did, too. And by the way, they all have true blue jay disposition now, there is little peaceful sharing of the feeder.

The climax of all the excitement was afforded by not one, but two kingfishers. They rattled at us as they flew up the creek.

So it is that what started out to be dull and drab was suddenly, thanks to some newcomers, all the old faithfuls, and several in-betweeners, very busy and exciting — and this is what I call a case of perfect timing!

Do You Remember . .

Remember when Hippie meant big in the hip,
And a trip involved travel in car, plane or ship?
When pot was a vessel for cooking things in—
And hook was what grandmother's rug may have been.

And fix was a verb that meant mend or repair,
And "be-in" meant simply existing somewhere
When neat meant well organized, tidy and clean,
And grass was a ground cover usually green.

When the lights and not people were turned on and off,
And a pill might have been what you took for a cough.
When groovy meant furrowed with channels and hollows,
And birds were wing creatures like robins and swallows.

It's groovy man, groovy, but English it's not,
One wonders if the language has gone straight to pot.

Tecumseh '5' Good? Fans Will See in Huron Clash

With only one regular back from the 1968-69 basketball team, it would appear that the Tecumseh Indians might have to push to match last year's 7-12 record.

It's just about the opposite. Tecumseh could be tough, real tough this season with some big boys in the lineup for a change. For the past two years the Indians have hurt, mainly due to the lack of any size.

First preview of the Indians will be Friday night when Tecumseh hosts Ann Arbor Huron in the local gym. Jayvees start the action at 6:30 with the varsity tilt following.

Tecumseh might get beat on the boards again this season, but not like the past two years. Only twice last season did the Indians grab more rebounds than the opposition.

Coach Vic Lawson is optimistic and feels the Indians will be "respectable." Last weeks scrimmage against Saline didn't change his mind. Tecumseh played the equivalent of five quarters against the Hornets and clobbered them each period.

Lone regular back is Jack Puffer, 6'3" center who will see a lot of action at a forward post. Puffer was Tecumseh's top scorer last season and is expected to net his share of points again.

Ken Pieh, 5'10" guard who started a few games early last year, will open here Friday night. Playing with him will be Scott Dalton, one of three juniors expected in starting roles.

Lawson is high on both Pieh and Dalton, who shot 54% from the floor last year on the undefeated Jayvee team.

Alex Gibson, 6'3½" forward, will team up with Puffer and Gary Hannibal, 6' center to give Tecumseh some size to battle for rebounds. Hannibal and Gibson are both juniors.

Bob Pettit, 6'4" forward, is expected to see a lot of action as will Craig Smith, 5'11" guard. Both also are juniors.

Rounding out the varsity are Tom Aiuto, Rich Schuyler, Paul Burns, Gary Alcock, Mike Kennedy and Randy Tirb. Aiuto and Kennedy played considerable ball last season, and Alcock was on the Jayvees. Tirb is a transfer student.

Lawson says Kennedy is a question mark due to a bad knee, injured in Tecumseh's grid victory over Adrian. He has not been able to work out yet and an operation on the knee is possible.

Tecumseh's head [illegible] ing his 15th season as top mentor, rates this year's club on about par in shooting with some of the past Tecumseh championship clubs. Whether they handle the ball as well will be determined once the season starts.

If Tecumseh goes all the way this year in the Huron League, the Indians will have to beat three especially tough clubs — New Boston Huron, Flat Rock and Blissfield. All three teams have the big boys, and Huron, for instance, has four regulars returning.

Book Exhibit on Dec. 2-3-4

Mrs. Robert Blanks, elementary school librarian, invites teachers, librarians, administrators, parents and children of the area to an exhibit of curriculum related books, some 400 titles from the lists of more than 50 publishers.

The book display will be at St. Peters Episcopal Church Dec. 2, 3 and 4, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Annotated, curriculum-related, indexed catalogues of the exhibit are available to school personnel.

The event is sponsored by the local elementary schools in cooperation with Books on Exhibit, a national library exhibiting enterprise.

3rd 'Eagle' in Family

An Eagle Scout ceremony was held in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church Nov. 17. It was conducted by District Scout Advancement Chairman Leo Swinehart, assisted by Larry Limbacher and Garth Gottschalk of the District committee.

Escorts for Eagle Candidate Richard Packard were Life Scout James Crandall of Troop 73 and Eagle Scout Larry Weaver of Carleton.

Tom Cook, scoutmaster of Troop 73, pinned the Eagle medal on Richard, who gave an Eagle necklace to his mother and an Eagle pin to his father, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Packard.

The awards were on a red pillow, conveyed by Webelo Scout Timothy Packard.

Mrs. Marion Weaver of Carleton presented Richard with a red badge jacket, hand-painted with an Eagle in the back. Mrs. Weaver is the wife of the assistant district commissioner of Custer District, Monroe County of Wolverine Council.

She made the presentation in recognition of the difficult time Richard had in gaining the honor and his persistence in trying, several times making hikes on crutches, to qualify for ranks.

Mrs. Opal Brady, grandmother of Richard, served punch to friends, relatives and members of Troop 73. Mrs. Richard Crandall and Mrs. Wayne Morley served coffee and cake, decorated with Eagle emblems by Mrs. Morley.

Richard is the third son of the Packards to earn the prized Eagle. Bruce is now an electronics technician with Federal Aeronautics and a cubmaster in Fort Wayne, Ind. Barry is a missionary teacher and scoutmaster in Litein, Kenya, East Africa.

Men Urged To Attend

Tecumseh and area men are urged to attend an organizational and planning session next Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Purpose of the meeting is to determine winter activity programs.

Two suggested activities include a pot-belly basketball league for men 30 and older, and a slo-break basketball league for all ages.

Details can be obtained from Ward Eardley, recreation director.

School Plans 4 Meetings for Public

An organizational meeting was held Wednesday night of last week for the purpose of informing the public about the Feb. 10th vote on a $9,700,000 school building project.

Four pubic meetings were planned to be held at Patterson Elementary School, Ridgeway, Tipton and at the Junior High. All meetings will be held after the first of the year.

A pamphlet for general distribution also was approved.

Participating in the planning, besides the School Board, were Ken Goldmann, Tecumseh Products advertising and sales promotion manager; a representative of the Warren Holmes architectural firm in Lansing, principals, and Gary Lovett, Tecumseh Education Association president, and several teachers.

Officials reviewed improved programs contemplated for the new high school and middle school.

If the eight mills are approved on Feb. 10, school officials will have the funds to construct a new high school and remodel and expand the present high school for a middle school.

The sixth grades will be included in the middle school, releasing eight class rooms in present elementary buildings.

EAGLE SCOUT GIVEN JACKET — Richard Packard, third in his family to receive the eagle badge, was given a surprise along with the coveted eagle award in special ceremonies at First Baptist Church recently. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Weaver, of Custer District of Wolverine Council of Boy Scouts, drove here to present a red badge jacket specially decorated with an eagle by Mrs. Weaver. Richard completed requirements of hiking and camp sessions while on crutches. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Packard, 511 S. Evans Street.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Steve Tilton, recently selected with Jack Greenfield and Ken Pich to the All-Huron League team, comes from a long line of Tecumseh Tiltons. His great-great-grandfather, William Tilton, walked from Monroe to Tecumseh in 1825 and there have been Tiltons here ever since. Information gleaned from Clara and Wilfred Waldron, cousins of the Tiltons.

The time for Thanksgiving is upon us and we have much to be thankful for. However, too many are too busy complaining to take the time to reflect on how good life, and this country, has been to them. Let's all give thanks.

"I came back," caroled the beaming Mrs. Howard Brooks Friday as she dropped into The Herald to relate that her antiquated cream can had been returned, too. Mrs. Lester Fogelsong phoned the Brooks' residence that she had picked up the can left by the Goodwill drop at the Kroger store, remembering that she had read of the loss in Thursday's paper. Everybody that is somebody reads The Herald. Those classifieds are astonishing.

SECRET'S OUT — Lee Ann Schneider with Katie Crause are trying desperately to keep Pat Weigle as Mrs. Chauvenet from talking to Bob Aten as Elwood P. Dowd. However, she learns about the big white pooka, Mr. Dowd's invisible rabbit.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"I will praise the name of God with a song and will magnify Him with Thanksgiving," Psalm 69:3. Thanksgiving is a precious time for families when cares are laid aside for a day and hearts are filled with gratitude for multitudes of blessings poured forth from the Heavenly Father. Conditions, environments, many things may not be just as we would like, but when one finds himself walking in God's love everything else must fall into a proper niche some time or some place.

Mrs. Henry Kempf, Mrs. Calvin Dixon, Mrs. Raymond Nichols and Mrs. Dean Moore were in Monroe Thursday to attend the Rest Matrons Alumni meeting.

Janice Sinkey and a friend, Frank D'Erasmo of New York City returned Friday after spending four days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sinkey. The Sinkeys will spend Thanksgiving Day with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Thompson, of Davison.

Mrs. Alden Erlenbush of Springville, who was injured in an auto accident several weeks ago, underwent surgery in Toledo Hospital. She is recovering nicely but is still not able to be out of bed. Her room number is 419. The popular cake decorator has been enjoying her mail.

Mrs. John Hamilton was the only grinning passenger Saturday as a car load stopped at the Wilfred Waldron residence following the Michigan-Ohio game. Apparently the Buckeyes weren't so pleased. The entire Hamilton clan plus Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron will go to their daughter's home in Worthington, O., for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Charles Anderson, nee Bobbie Hunt, is celebrating her birthday anniversary Thanksgiving Day by entertaining her family, the Robert Hunts, the Jim Wolfs, and Clarence Kellers and Mrs. Dorothy Peters of Clinton.

Baaskes Entertain for Cousin Elsa

Other guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kaiser and Joan, Bertha [illegible], Mrs. and Mrs. Dean Schnelrla and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baaske and Susan and Marilyn.

Mrs. Ferman provided a decorated yellow cake, highlighting the potluck dinner.

German Measle Shots Offered

National and state health authorities warn that the spring of 1970 may be the start of a year when rubella, German or 3-day measles, threatens with the worst epidemic in its history.

In the last national epidemic in 1964, the U. S. Public Health Service conservatively estimated that 50,000 unborn infants were killed or crippled as a result of the virus of rubella, which attacks unborn children through the mother if she catches the virus anytime in early pregnancy.

This disease, frequently so mild as to be hardly noticed, is most contagious before the carrier has shown any sign of the disease and after he gets its, there is no evidence he can spread it after the symptoms have disappeared.

Fortunately, a recently-developed vaccine is expected to help minimize the tragic potential of the disease. Michigan has purchased 600,000 doses of the vaccine and during the next three months proposes to immunize the most common carrier of the disease — the school children of kindergarten through third grade age.

If this group is immunized, thousands of pregnant mothers will be protected against the danger of giving birth to a defective or handicapped or dead child. Rubella may be responsible for blindness, deafness, mental retardation and other equally disabling conditions.

The Lenawee County Health Department will offer this FREE Rubella vaccine to all of the kindergarten through third grade children of Lenawee County in a program to be conducted in the schools throughout the county.

Mrs. Elsie Thelander, director of nurses, announces that public health nurses will be administering the vaccine in the schools during the first two weeks of December.

Administration requires signed parental approval and the 7,462 children in this age group will be given letters to bring home to their parents during the week of Nov. 17.

Parents are asked to return the authorization immediately to facilitate health department planning for the school clinics.

The first Presidential Proclamation of a day of Thanksgiving in the United States was made by George Washington, in 1789. The day was set aside for prayers and thanks for the new Constitution. Several states continued the practice, each designating its own day.

Abraham Lincoln was the first President to appoint an official Thanksgiving Day, to be celebrated each year on the last Thursday of November. Lincoln issued the Proclamation on October 3, 1863. Since that time the Nation has joined, on one day, in saying its prayers of Thanksgiving, and in remembrance of the small band of religious fugitives who landed, accidentally, at Plymouth Rock.

A fact too often forgotten concerning the Pilgrim Fathers is their trial — and abandonment — of the communal system of joint ownership and community labor in the colony. A primary reason for their early hardships on the North American continent was the effort to form a Socialist society.

At first, the young colony seemed to be working, but following the first "Thanksgiving," the colony went into a tailspin. Many found that under the system all shared equally so that not a few began to absent themselves from the fields. Naturally they feigned illness and naturally the number of absentees increased.

The crops failed, and the "starving time" soon followed. Things became so bad in 1623, just three years after they had landed, that the best they could provide for new arrivals from the mother country was a freshly-caught fish, a lobster, and a cup of water. It was a disastrous come-down under the bountiful feast of 1621, when they had hosted Chief Massasoit and 90 of his braves.

And so it was that in that same year of 1623, Governor William Bradford, at the urging of the governing council, established the free enterprise system, and the Plymouth Plantation began to grow and to prosper.

The Pilgrims had learned their lesson the hard way. But, from the agony of "the starving timme" there has grown the most productive and most wealthy civilization that the world has ever known. In Thanksgiving, it has shared the product of its hard work with virtually every nation in the world. Thanksgiving is truly a capitalist holiday.

A good many of the AILMENTS which we sometimes refer to as common are more annoying than dangerous, more bother than a threat. They are part of the occupational hazard of living, and it is likely that, left to our own devices, we would be quite capable of getting along with them during their comings, and goings. BUT WE ARE NOT left to our own devices. Indeed, we are all but overwhelmed with devices of others, the popular products which have occupied the drugstores, which stare at us from advertisements in the newspapers and magazines, and which give us our instructions from the television screens they now command. OUR PEACE IS ENDANGERED IF NOT OUR HEALTH.

The popular products in their bottles and jars and tubes have become a major reliance of a considerable part of this country's population, and the seller's have become the prime source of medical education for the buyers. It is the opinion of many Pharmacists including this one, that the contents of the bottles, jars, and tubes are most often a good deal less than represented and that many are worthless. But none of this can be learned from the commercial on television, nor the dressed up ad in the weekly periodical. The point is that more buyers every day are sold by the promotions engineered by the men wearing the grey flannel suits.

CONCLUSION . . . it is our opinion that if more families would choose their Pharmacists as they choose their personal Physician and consult that Pharmacist they would soon be able to discard many of the worthless over-the-counter drugs and beauty aids cluttering up their medicine cabinets.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I've been following with particular interest the controversy over the dress code at THS in my capacity as a recent alumnus and concerned student. And I've noted with some disappointment that parents have been voicing opposition to a student proposal that the code be dropped.

While I recognize and respect their concern as expressed by the Ray Buells in the Nov. 20 issue, I find their reasoning falling far short of their purported aims. If Tecumseh parents are so concerned for the welfare of their children, why don't they attend to it themselves, rather than delegate it to already overloaded teachers and administrators? I've witnessed this contradiction much too often in Tecumseh. So, I think, have the administrators themselves as well as the local police. Parents have no right to to shrug off their responsibilities on the schools.

In addition, a dress code unfairly dictates arbitrary and debatable value judgments to individuals who may disagree as to their worth. Such circumstances are contradictory to our basic premises of freedom and unworthy of the educational institution. I submit that the only basis for punitive action in this context, is the disruption of the academic environment. Last year, the general concensus was that there would be very little change in dress in the absence of a specific code.

Further, the disruption of the academic atmosphere as the direct result of such a code tends to refute any excuse for its necessity. I think everyone agrees that it is a petty issue at best, and hardly worth the concern given it in the past two years. Rather, such efforts might be better placed in worrying about the quality of classes and guidance the school offers.

I think the vast majority of THS students are quite capable of acting and dressing in a responsible fashion. I believe a dress code is detrimental to the objectivity of education. And I think parents should accept the responsibilities of their own duties, because if, indeed, they do demand a dress code for their adolescent children, then they pass judgment on their own inadequacy and failure.

Respectfully yours,
Bill Whiting

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHAT DOES COMMUNION MEAN?

In the Bible we are told that Jesus initiated the Communion at the Last Supper. I Cor. 11:23-28 is the most comprehensive passage of information. Some things to see here are noted.

Communion is for Christians. This book is written to the church at Corinth. In chapter one is the mention they are all saved. A basic requirement for participation is conversion or salvation.

Notice also, one should be careful not to partake in an untrue manner. Read verse 27. Apparently, Christians are in a peculiar situation concerning this. If we partake with known sin in our lives we certainly are out of order. If we do not partake we are in violation of the command repeatedly given, This do.

The only solution seems to be in accord with verse 28. As the [illegible] we should go through some serious self-examination. First of all, to see if there is real genuine evidence that we are converted. Then we should solemnly seek out unconfessed sin and confess it to God. Sometimes it will be necessary to rectify a situation with another person before we partake. See Matthew 5:23, 23.

Communion does not add anything to our Salvation. Jesus said to do it in remembrance of Him and what He did for us, not for what it would do for us. This observance is a memorial to the substitutionary, Sacrificial work of Christ upon the Cross for you and me.

Partake to rejoice in your Salvation, to remember the Savior and to remind yourself of your sinfulness apart from Salvation.

"CLOUDS AND OTHER SILLY THINGS"

Well, it happened. A week ago, when I was talking about the "big sky country" which shows in part of my west-facing window now that the big old elm is gone, I mentioned that perhaps so much sky-watching would prompt some cloud studying. Good gracious, what a snarl of technical terms, confusing explanations, and scientific theories it has turned out to be.

First of all, every book and article goes into long and lengthy definitions of clouds, what and why they are. Our dictionary has the simplest statement, a cloud is "a visible mass of vapor, especially one suspended in the sky." Composition wise, clouds are made of minute ice crystals or droplets of water but, they are more than that, too — any sky watcher at all knows that clouds are castless, funny people, over-stuffed animals, grotesque faces, soft pillows, puffs of cotton, and great luscious mounds of whipped cream. They can be the photographer's delight, the weather forecaster's friend or the sun bather's gloom.

It was way back in 1803 that an Englishman, Luke Howard, started all of the trouble in which I find myself. He named the three basic groups of clouds (cumulus, stratus, cirrus) and, although latter day scientists have refined and added to his work, it is still the basis of today's classification.

Let's not get to deeply involved this way, Marda. Very briefly and terribly over-simplified, the clouds I see, or have a chance of seeing, break down like this . . . .

★

CUMULUS CLOUDS are puffed up, lumpy, or billowy, and are formed by localized vertical air currents swishing upwards. Often they have rather flat, dark-colored bases. These are the clouds for which all shutter-bugs hope for. They often make the difference between a nothing picture and a prizewinner.

And speaking of there being tricks in all trades, that funny man who rides a bicycle, Stan Midgley, has a sure-fire way of putting clouds exactly where he wants them.

When filming scenery on a cloudless day, he merely opens the car door, frames the landscape through the window on the door, sticks little puffs of cotton on the glass and, by filming through, has instant, perfectly-placed clouds. If one were not careful to have a clean window — but, are there ever windows not clean?

Today's weathermen add the words nimbus to clouds producing either rain or snow. Thus cumulonimbus is a storm-bearing cloud, a thunderhead. And one year when vacationing in Arizona, we were able to get some almost perfect pictures of nimbostratus, although we had no idea at the time what they were called.

However, one day while driving across the Navajo Indian Reservation, where the land is flat and the view unobstructed, we saw dense clusters of low-hanging, black-bottomed clouds from which rain was falling. Nimbostratus! Standing in sunshine and using the wide angle lens on the camera to take pictures of rain storms many miles away produces some striking effects.

★

STRATUS CLOUDS are sheets or layers. When cloud bases are at heights of 2500 to 2000 feet, they are said to be middle altitude clouds and identified by the prefix alto. Altostratus clouds are often gray or bluish layers or patches, sometimes even having a milky appearance. Amateur-weather forecasters can score many points by using them as rain predicters.

These, by the way, are the thin, gauzy films which sometime cover, but do not completely obscure, the sun so that it looks like a big dull ball. It is a frosted glass effect.

High clouds, those found above 20,000 feet, belong to the cirrus family. They are thin, loose, wispy, featherish clouds often "spread thin" by strong high altitude winds. All are made of ice crystals. The cirrostratus are the makers of the halos which sometimes circle the moon or sun. Light rays refracted through the ice crystals form the arcs and circles.

Fog is another phenomena of moist air which we sometimes see through our big sky window — we see it through the others, too, but today we are concerning ourselves with just our west-facer. Anyway, fog is nothing more than moisture-ladened air which cools near the ground.

When fog rises it becomes a stratus cloud. If the foggy cloud is thick enough, there may be rain and drizzle but, it often happens that the layer is thin and quickly burned off thus providing a beautiful day.

Oops — all of this cloud talk has run us out of space and we must leave the "silly things" until next week.

Questionnaires Are Requested

Lenawee area vocational education office is surveying the 1969 high school graduates to determine whether they are engaged in occupations related to the vocational, business or industrial courses they took during their school years.

Of the 680 questionnaires sent out, better than 75% have been returned. Former students who still have such a questionnaire are asked to fill it out and return it in the free envelope provided.

Answers, received by Dec. 2 can still be counted.

Tecumseh Income Tax Another Step Closer

Tecumseh took a step closer to a city income tax Monday evening when Council and City Manager Cal Zorn met officials from Adrian and Hudson at Adrian.

Purpose of the three-city session, held after the regular Council meeting here was to discuss the advantages of city income taxes, methods of collection, relief of property taxes, and how to present a city income tax to city residents.

A study committee of the three mayors and top administrators were appointed to investigate city income taxes further.

This committee includes Mayor Harold Easton and Cal Zorn, city manager.

Officials discussed an advisory vote of the people and possibility of a single service agency for collecting monies for all three communities.

Tecumseh Council does not have to ask or go to the polls for establishing a city income tax here. Officials can enact such a tax, and if the electorate dislikes it, a referendum ccan then force it onto the ballot.

Some local officials feel that a city income tax is fair, and more just, than the present property tax. Many folks who live outside Tecumseh but work here would pay a share of income tax.

Figures discussed would have city residents paying 11% and those outside and working here, ½% of their income.

Mr. Zorn has estimated that a local income tax would raise approximately $150,000 annually. This figure is based on the rough estimates of total industrial and commercial payrolls collected each year

The amount is the equivalent of five mills, based on the city's current evaluation of approximately $30,000,000. Local officials have yet to determine whether six mills would come off local property tax or exactly how property tax would be reduced.

Questions yet to be answered but sure to come under further discussion is the possibility of lowering the 15-mill limitation. Council can now collect 15 mills without going to the people and having more monies voted. Tecumseh is currently collecting 14 mills.

A second meeting of the three communities is scheduled for Jan. 19 and will include officials from Morenci. The study committee, appointed Monday evening, is to report its findings at this session.

There is still considerable work to be done before enacting an income tax here, and officials say it would be at least 1971 before one could be put into effect.

Tecumseh has studied an income tax for several years, and it was discussed briefly earlier this year in April.

Baird Earns MSU Trophy

Former Tecumseh star Don Baird, a 5-10, 206 pound mighty mite who started at guard for two years, was awarded the Ross Trophy at the recent Michigan State football banquet.

The Ross Trophy goes to the player who best combines athletic ability with academic excellence.

Baird rated by Spartan coaches as one of the most technically sound of the Spartan forwards, belongs to that rare breed — the non-scholarship player who makes good. Although not recruited by the Spartans, Don stayed out and was rewarded with a starting roll at guard in the 1968 and 1969 seasons.

On the academic side, Don has been one of the squad's top scholars throughout his Spartan career, consistently posting B-plus grades in his engineering sciences studies.

After graduation, he would like to go on to graduate school in either engineering or management, but he has not ruled out the possibility of medical school yet.

A senior, Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird of 14 W. Patterson St.

Youth Arrested for Marijuana

Scott L. Sharp, 18, of 509 Herrick Park Dr., has been arrested by the Tecumseh police on a charge of possession of narcotics.

He is currently out on bond.

$6,000 Loss in House Fire

Fire, starting in the basement of a home occupied by the Richard Graham family, extensively damaged the two-story house on Dinius Rd. early Monday morning.

Damages are reported in excess of $6,000.

Tecumseh firemen answered the alarm at 1:15 a.m., and after arriving at the scene, called Raisin Township department, which responded with a pumper and tank wagon.

The Grahams and one child were asleep downstairs when they discovered smoke. It was so thick that Mr. Graham took a telephone and stepped outside to call Tecumseh.He rescued his young son from an upstairs bedroom.

The fire was confined chiefly to the basement and joists of the first floor, damaging the joists to the extent that they will have to be replaced if the house is rebuilt.

Some fire reached the stairway and weakened it, forcing firemen to lay a ladder on the steps to the second floor.

The house, one half miles west of Occidental Rd., is owned by Elmer King, Plymouth, according to the Tecumseh fire report. It's understood, however, that the house was in the process of being sold.

Firemen were at the scene for three hours.

Cole was pined in his jeep and was finally removed through the rear window. Tecumseh firemen were summoned to extinguish the blaze. The accident caused traffic to be detoured down Shepherd Rd.

Both Osborn and Cole were taken by ambulance to Bixby Hospital for treatment.

Styles Stressed

Sixty-five members and guests of Tecumseh Business and Professional Women's Club met recently at the Presbyterian Church for dinner, prepared and served by women of the church. Tables were decorated in the Thanksgiving theme and fashionably dressed in keeping with the guest speakers for the evening, Evel and Dean of Evel-Dean Exclusives.

The gentlemen spoke of the proper dress today and accessories appropriate to the costume.

Evel also pointed out that whatever style is most becoming to the person, that is what should be worn, not to wear a fad just becaue it is popular at the moment.

Evel, also a hair designer, discussed hair styles, hair color and wigs.

Both men stressed the idea that clothes worn to the office anr hair style should be completely differene for evening wear. Both men answered many questions.

Members voted to sponsor a girl to Girl's State, to send cookies for Christmas to the Lenawee Youth Center, to send Christmas gifts to Maple Lane Manor, to take care of needy families at Thanksgiving and shut-in members with cards and flowers at Christmas time.

Mrs. Duane Service, Mrs. Fred Randall, Mrs. Stephen Illeck, and Mrs. P. G. Colgrove were hostesses. Mrs. Naomi Sallows gave devotions.

OPEN LETTER
to our Customers

Consumers Power Company

November 1969

To Our Customers:

As you may have heard or read, Consumers Power Company has found it necessary to put into effect a modest increase in its rates for electricity and natural gas. This increase, effective October 22, distributes a 6.2 percent increase in electric rates and a 10 percent increase in natural gas rates across several classifications of customers.

Like any supplier of services, Consumers Power Company has been reluctant to ask for a rate increase. Indeed, our electric rates have remained steady — or been reduced — for the last 10 years, and our gas rates also have remained steady — or been reduced — for the last eight years. So even with the present increase, these forms of energy remain more economical than almost any other item in your household budget.

The reason why we have had to raise our rates is this: Like everyone else, we are caught in an inflationary spiral. Almost everything costs more: facilities, equipment, vehicles, fuel, wages of our employees, interest on borrowed money, taxes of all kinds, and almost anything else one cares to mention.

We can't economize by reducing existing services, or refusing new services. Our customers require and demand abundant energy, and they want more of it every year. That's why we will be investing nearly 1.5 BILLION DOLLARS in the next five years for new construction.

We have always felt it an obligation to serve our customers well. We certainly intend to continue doing so in the future.

Sincerely,

R. T. Deemer

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHY IS CHURCH ARCHITECTURE SO DIFFERENT?

A person who has visited several different churches in recent days wants to know if there is a significance in the matter of construction of buildings. This situation is apparanet to those who have been in many buildings. Perhaps the most obvious differences are in the inside position of the furniture and platform arrangements.

The Bible does not tell us how to build a church but it does tell us how some folk did things. Ezra 8:4, 5 tell us of Ezra upon a platform above the people so they could see. Verse 8 of this chapter tells of reading, interpreting and applying so the people could understand.

Some churches have a pulpit in the center of the platform. Some have two or more. In these situations, part of the service is conducted on one side and part on the other.

The purpose and meaning of this seems to be the desire of that particular church to impress its people along certain directions. In the so-called split-chancel-church, more ritual and ceremony is commonplace. In one-pulpit churches there is generally a desire to emphasize the preaching aspect of the service.

I prefer the latter. I feel one would like His Word to be presented as clearly as possible as often as possible. The Bible is of extreme importance. "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the World of God."

Indians Bow, 63 to 57

Tecumseh doesn't have to be concerned with an undefeated season, losing the basketball opener to Ann Arbor Huron, 63-57, but the Indians did show enough Friday night to convince many that they'll be more than a respectable club this season.

Coach Vic Lawson's five ran up against a good AAH team, and except for a few defensive lapses, could have been the winner. Several times the Indians were caught napping on defense with the visitors sneaking down court for easy buckets.

These lapses plus poor shooting accounted for the defeat. The Indians shot about 33% from the floor and not much better from the free throw line — canning nine of 22 attempts for 43%.

Tecumseh started out strong in the first quarter and in the early moments had a 7-3 lead. Huron knotted the score at 9-9 and then pulled away to a nine-point margin at the end of the period.

The Indians once narrowed the deficit to three points in the second quarter before the half, which saw AAH lead 32-28.

Tecumseh could get no closer than five points in the third quarter and once trailed by 12 in the final stanza before rallying. After being down 58-46, the Indians spurted, scoring nine points to AAH's three.

With just less than two minutes to play, Tecumseh trailed 61-55 and with just seconds left, pulled to within five points, 62-57.

While this is the biggest — and best — Indian team in a couple of years, Huron's Larry Brooks, 6'6" center, was a bit too tough to handle. The lanky blond pulled down more than his share of rebounds and took scoring honors with 17.

Teammate Dave Skala, 6'2" forward, netted 15 points.

Ken Pieh, one of two starting seniors on Lawson's team, led the Indians with 13 points. Bill Puffer and Alex Gibson each scored nine.

The young Indians, several up from last year's Jayvee team, are bound to improve and at one time against AAH, Lawson had four Juniors on the floor. With a little more experience, they could be tough before the season is over and certainly will be contenders for the Huron League title.

Jaycees Win in Overtime

Tecumseh Jaycees broke lose for six points in overtime to win their first basketball game of the season Friday night, whipping Ann Arbor Huron, 41-37..

Top scorer for the Indians was Rick Bunch with 14 points, three in overtime. Dan Gunder hit for one goal and John Travis netted a free throw for Tecumseh's winning points. Travis was also second high with nine points for the game.

The close till was tied at the half, at the end of three quarters and at the buzzer in the fourth quarter.

Visit to Mable Ames' doll factory, 1441 Stewart Rd., Hudson, was lots of fun for [illegible] Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wolf. Fifty yarn-bedecked "Sockies" were all ready for pre-Christmas delivery. Story of "Sockie with a Soul" is shown in an illustrated booklet composed by Mrs. [illegible] ican gothic painting by Grant Wood, the wood-burning range, keeps Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ames and the cats — cozy.

26 Year Legend

By Maxine Calhoun

Just as the "Teddy Bear" and "Raggedy Ann" dolls, the "Sockie" dolls have bridged the generation gap by their timeless appeal to youngsters

Mable Ames' creation, "Sockie," first became a legend 26 years ago.

Since then the Hudson area farm wife, now 77, has fashioned 7,000 of the saucy little sock dolls, which have delighted thousands of youngsters.

The first little Sockies gained fame during World War 11, when Mable Ames started making the dolls. Demand snowballed into a booming business. She lived in Jackson then, and recalls she had to hire a full-time assistant to help keep up with the orders.

At first the dolls were made of men's cotton work socks, but now they're a cuddlier, toddler's anklet size in pretty pastels.

To their creator, the dolls seem to have personalities, so Mable Ames compiled some little booklets of stories and verses about them, and her own clever illustrations added to their charm.

Poetry and sketches by Mable Ames were a part of the first Hudson High School annual, published in 1914, when she was a member of the senior class.

She graduated from State Normal School at Ypsilanti, and taught school for seven years. She recalls that her first teaching position at the Rollin School paid $50 a month, and there were 36 children in one room. She succeeded her mother as teacher there.

For another eight years, she was nurse maid for the grandchildren of R. E. Olds, founder of the Oldsmobile company. During those years she traveled a lot with that family.

Just 20 years ago, Mable Ames married Clifford Ames, a distant cousin, and his six children became the first family for the woman who had spent a lifetime caring for other folk's children.

There's 21 grandchildren now and these were busy years in between. For the past eight years there was so much to do that the lady, who says she has a "great time living," didn't didn't have time to make her Sockie doll.

She's active in the Hudson Senior Citizens Club, and district chaplain of the Veterans of World War 1 Auxiliary, and an ambitious flower gardener in the summertinme.

This September, when these activities began to slow down a bit, she started making the Sockies again as daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clifford Porter, of Manitou Beach, thought she could "sell a few" at the Fisher Body Tecumsen plant, where she is employed.

Just as a quarter century before, the Sockies charmed all who saw them and orders poured in, so Mrs. Ames is back in the doll business in a big way. She expects to complete more than 200 by Christmas time.

There's something about each Sockie that makes it special, as Sockie says—

"Can't do no work, not one little bit,
My arms are swaingh an' I always sit,
But in this world I hold a place;
I'm just a Sockie, a queer little race,
But I gotta soul, don't you forget.
Der ain't been a Sockie widout one yet."

Isn't it time your child started doing something?

In today's TV-dinner world, people are forgetting how to live. Because the more they watch, the less they do.

Remember, piano lessons aren't what they used to be. Because new teaching techniques can have your child playing actual tunes in just weeks.

Life should be lived, not watched.

BEST AROUND — Santa's gay hut in downtown Tecumseh is the finest around, thanks to the Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber provided the finances for the building, and the Jaycees built it — plus sprucing it up with bright colors for the holidays. Denny Henehan, son of the Bernard Henehans, here chats with Santa outside the hut.

Faraday Is Now Public

Faraday, Inc. became a publicly held corporation Dec. 1 when the company finalized its acquisition of Orrtronics, Inc., of Toledo.

The merger agreement was approved by stockholders of both companies on Nov. 21. Each share of Orrtronics stock was converted into .430725 share of Faraday common stock.

Champion Spark Plug Co. of Toledo, which had controlled 81% of Orrtronics' 2.7 million shares of stock, now holds 37% of Faraday common stock.

All stock is now traded over the counter under the Faraday, Inc., name.

Plans are now progressing to move the Orrtronics operation to Tecumseh. Orrtronics manufactures automobile and home stereo tape players, sales of endless loop magnetic tape cartridges, produces audio announcers and distributes audiovisual equipment.

First trade of Faraday stock on the corporation's first day of public, over-the-counter exchange, was made through a Detroit investment banker office by Frank Flack, Faraday board chairman, and Fred Kluin, company president.

Sutton School Not To Open Until Spring

Parents and youngsters who have sought a new Sutton Elementary School for years will have to wait a bit longer.

Strikes and delays in obtaining materials have forced postponement of the school's opening until spring, probably late March or April Construction for the new $1 million school started last April, and officials anticipated having it ready for the second semester of the current school term.

Last summer a three-month strike, affecting a steel fabricator for the building, held up work, and present electric strike is now causing problems infinding necessary material.

When the building is finished, an open house for the public will be held and pupils moved in. Some 240 to 250 youngsters will move in, coming from two classrooms at the old Sutton school, from two portable buildings at Sutton and two classrooms at Ridgeway.

The Intermediate School District owns the old Sutton school and the portable classrooms, and it's believed the old school building will be used as a county materials center.

The new school building is of a somewhat unique design and will have nine classrooms, art-music room, multipurpose room, kitchen and material-library center.

Two Tipton Boys Lucky

Two Tipton youths, William E. Bailey, 16, and his brother, Owen, 15, narrowly escaped serious injury late Saturday afternoon when their car swerved off M-50 and crashed head on into a tree.

William, driver of the eastbound car, was attempting to pass another motorist when he lost control, crossed the highway, flew over some stumps and rammed into the tree

The tree was struck with such force that limbs and branches at the top were broken off The auto, completely demolished, caught fire and the blaze was extinguished by the Tecumseh Fire Department

The boys, sons of the Rev. and Mrs. Max Bailey, Tipton Hwy., were taken to Herrick Hospital. William suffered a back injury. Owen was treated for minor cuts and bruises and was released.

Clinton State Police cited the young driver for improper passing.

Aiming for France

Voyage en France Club was recently formed under the advisorship of Mrs. John Wakeford to organize money making projects to enable a group of fifteen high school French students to partially pay their way to France.

This summer these students hope to be able to put their new language to a practical test.

The club is not connected with school, and it does [illegible] several hours a week of the students' time. The group has been busy with projects since summer.

To date they have made and sold flowers and stuffed toys at the county fair, had bake sale worked on refreshments at the 4-H horse show, sold Halloween cleanup insurance.

Presently, they are busy filling Christmas orders for delightful hand-made dolls and dainty hand-trimmed stationery Future proposed projects include a spring fashion show, a dinner, an auction and further sales projects.

Chuck Hannah was as pleased a hart hunter as any in the woods this year. The 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hannah, 5404 Rogers Hwy, spent five days up north this, his first year, with no success. And then Tuesday he got his buck on his grandfather's farm on Rogers Hwy., a 200 lb., eight-pointer. Wow eeeeeee.

"One of the sweetest smells in the world has never been experienced by most of todays young mothers—except perhaps as an infant, too young to remember," thus reads the note on an Ameriican Oil Co. order blank. "It's the smell of diapers in winter that have been washed, spread out on the clothes bar and set outside to freeze stiff—then brought in to dry. Oh, such softness and sweetness! Remember? Too bad for you young girls—you'll never know." Well, we do and we remember clothes bars, too, Gene.

Phones rang constantly at The Herald last Thursday and Friday — but we expected them. The Dec. 3rd issue we'd rather forget. Ads were dropped, news and pictures omitted, the paper reduced nearly 50%. We were faced with coming out on schedule, or a day late. Culprits were our linotypes, type setting machines which weren't setting type. They were down, seemingly most of the time, and our regular operator, Bill Schooley, was in Herrick Hospital. If it hadn't been for Milt Petee and a couple others, The Herald could have missed a publication. Milt is now filling in for Bill while he's recovering from an operation. Most of the news omitted last week is in today's issue.

One of the many hats of Consumers Power COMMUNITY PROMOTION

Each time a new industry moves into Michigan, it creates new jobs for the people living here. More jobs result in more income for all types of business in a community. More jobs and more business income result in more tax revenues for the state. The fact is, Michigan needs 100,000 new jobs each year, just to keep pace with its growing population.

There's a small group of men at Consumers Power who work at job-making. They are our Area Development specialists. They visit industry leaders around the country, talking about the advantages of locating industry in Michigan. They help businessmen find industrial sites here.

Year in and year out, these job-makers of Consumers Power's Area Development department help keep Michigan's economy booming.

Brablec Honored

BRITTON — Carl Brablec, an educator for whom a $4.5 million high school in Roseville was named, was guest of honor at its dedication Dec. 4.

Now in his 37th consecutive year in public education, he has served in three Michigan Communities: Britton, Clarkston, and Roseville.

He has been superintendent of the Roseville public school system for the last 22 years and was recognized for his achievements in education at a buffet dinner in the school which bears his name.

Born on a Lenawee County farm, he takes pride in his immigrant parents who taught him the Czech language. This gave him an opportunity for a year's study as an "American Fellow" at the Charles University in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

A lifelong career in education started for Brablec when he graduated from Britton High School in 1926 and attended Eastern Michigan University, earning a bachelor of arts degree in 1930. The following year he went as an American exchange Fellow to Czechoslovakia.

He served as teacher and then principal at Britton High School from 1932-40 while working toward his masters degree at the University of Michigan.

He was named superintendent of the Britton district and served in that position until 1944, when he became superintendent of Clarkston school district.

After three years at Clarkston, he went to Rosevelle.

Relatives from Britton who attended the dedication were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kanous, Mr. R. B. Kanous, Mr. and Mrs. George Brablec, a brother; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kanous of Tecumseh, Mrs. Joseph Simecek, Milan; Mrs. Charles Herrick, Milan; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Allegrina, Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Micka, a sister, and sons of Monroe.

Mr. Brablec's brother and sister, George Brablec and Mrs. Charles Micka, received special recognition at the dedication program.

MRS. E. JOHN HOELZER HAS DECORATED HER HOME AT CLINTON WITH IMAGINATION AND ELBOW GREASE

Something Out of Nothing

by Maxine Calhoun

CLINTON — Everyone calls her "Skipper," but her name is Elva.

Mrs. E. John Hoelzer, who has skipped through life at a spirited pace, was given her nickname "Skipper" about 25 years ago when she first started taking her Detroit Girl Scout mariner troops on tours of the Coast Guard ship stationed at Belle Isle.

The Coast Guard Captain described her as a good skipper of her Scout crew, and thus she was dubbed "Skipper" for life.

She's shared her creative talents and youthful energy with Girl Scouts for 26 years. For many years she had charge of the Tecumseh-Clinton area Girl Scout Day Camp, and she's already consented to serve as an assistant at the day camp next summer.

Since moving from Detroit 30 years ago, Elva and her husband, John, have resided at their farm on Lima Center Rd., east of Clinton. They continued to operate a butter and egg route in Detroit and the Irish Hills locale until seven years ago, when they sold out to the present owner, a nephew and namesake, John Hoelzer.

That's when they planned to retire.

However, the seven years since their retirement have been "the busiest years of my life", according to Mrs. Hoelzer.

One soon learns the reason upon a visit to the rambling farmstead. Mrs. Hoelzer has created its highly imaginative interior decoration with the assistance of her husband, who never did any woodworking until he retired."

Recalling her grandfather, who was a lighthouse-keeper on Beaver Island in the days of King Strang, Mrs. Hoelzer says her childhood visits to the history-laden island led her to treasure all relics of early America.

She has a particular knack for making something out of nothing.

In the family room, the handsome tall wooden candle holders, standing beside the cozy, stone fireplace, are simply some old table legs, based on amber glass insulators.

The fireplace is flanked by two miniature church pews, replicas of the pews at the United Church of Christ in Clinton, and salvaged from the bits of pews and ends that remained from the recent church remodeling.

Mrs. Hoelzer has spent most of her time in the past few years in projects at that church. She served as chairman of the board of trustees for three years and was a moving force in its restoration in keeping with its colonial heritage.

Much of the grubby work of varnish removing and hand sanding of pulpit tables and wainscoting was done by Mrs. Hoelzer, and her enthusiasm encouraged many others to lend a hand.

For many years she's been a Circle chairman and each six weeks is responsible for soliciting the food and preparing the dinner for 25 Rotarians at the church, with a couple of assistants

When a friend brought her an ungainly chunk of birch log from Michigan's north woods, she had John saw a flat side on it, and make some legs. After much sanding and waxing, it holds a place of honor in the family room as a cribbage board — complete with the finely honed pegs of bone carved by John.

The fireplace logs are stored inside a burnished copper wash boiler, which has a lid decorated with tiles, hand laid by its owner.

"I really use the fireplace to cook in," Elva said as she pointed to the wire rack for broiling steaks and the hanging iron kettle, which she described as 'dandy for cooking a roast."

The formal living room is full of Early American furniture, refinished by Mrs. Hoelzer. There's a charming tilt-top, round, walnut table, "a bargain I picked up at an auction for only $10 and I've refused 175 for it since," she'll tell you proudly.

A reclamation from a dump, a massive walnut table leg is wired as a lamp base. "It was in such good condition, it just needed waxing."

There's a lovely old walnut drop-leafed extension table, waxed to perfection, and placed below a wall grouping of antique, walnut-framed pictures, the rarest of all — a spindle platform rocker, which she also retrieved from a dump.

It's a conversation piece now, as it proudly shows off the Grandma Moses print upholstery, added by Elva.

She'll show a visitor a cellar filled with pickles and condiments she canned last summer, when she wasn't busy fashioning the unique flower-filled ice punch bowls for someone's wedding reception.

She can stage a party at the drop of a hat — and the whole rural Clinton mail route of 800 persons for a guest list — didn't faze her this fall when she arranged the farewell reception for Amos Wilson, Clinton's postman.

There's four children, Mrs. Raymond Hines, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Art Wicking, Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Howard Pennington, Adrian; and son, Robert Vogel, of Clinton, and 13 grandchildren.

The family has such a lot of fun getting together that I have to keep a dormitory available," she explained.

The dormitory is painted a luscious lilac shade and its three full-sized beds have spreads of matching lilac taffeta. An added touch of whimsy is the assortment of gayly-patterned, yarn-fringed throw pillows which Elva made from terry cloths and hung from a wooden drapery rod on curtain rings above the headboards.

She's made a dandy earring tree from a sturdy old discarded coil spring by sliding it into a length of green velvet cording.

There's some foot-long sections of table legs left over when the circular table was cut down for a coffee table, and she demonstrated how she plans to make some candle holders from them.

Mrs. Hoelzer is president of the Priscilla Class of the United Church of Christ. She has established the tradition of preparing each year, the annual pre-Christmas dinner for the 15 members of the class. Members pay for the dinner and the proceeds go for a project at the church.

Here's the menu for the tasty treat cooked up by Elva for Dec. 11: oriental chicken, roast beef, "a great new carrot dish", Hollandaise asparagus, hot scones, parfait sherbet dessert and her own well-known Christmas "Tassie" and a concoction of cream cheese and pecans in dainty piecrust shells.

She'll set a gala table, too, and park the places with tiny wicker baskets, which she has threaded with green velvet ribbons and filled with the littlest, make-believe flowers.

Oh yes, she had time to whip up six comfy wool-filled and tied quilts for some of her grandchildren for Christmas.

She's also serving on the Salvation Army Council and helped to distribute 200 dolls that had to be dressed for Christmas giving — and dressed a few herself.

While more youthful folks marvel at such as she — this young lady doesn't mind admitting — she's 78!

Club Yule Party Held at Center

Tri-County Mothers of Twins Club held their annual Christmas party at the Smth-Kimball Community Center in Clinton Sunday afternoon.

Attending were 60 persons, including members, their families and guests.

Santa paid a visit after the potluck dinner, and movies were shown of previous club Christmas parties held in 1967 and 1968.

The Jan. 21 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Smith, Tecumseh Rd.

SPARK VICTORY — Ken Pieh, who collected 14 points Friday night, feeds teammate Bob Pettit here. Pettit was top scorer with 18 points in Tecumseh's 74-60 win.

Tecumseh Wins 1st

Tecumseh opened its drive for the Huron eague cage championship Friday night with a rather ragged performance over visiting Monroe Jefferson, 74-60.

Whether it was the opposition or plain carelessness on the part of the Indians, the game's play was a far cry from Tecumseh's losing performance the week before against Ann Arbor Huron.

Behind Scott Dalton and Bob Pettit Tecumseh jumped out to a 20-14 lead in the first quarter, and then Ken Pieh hit three goals in the first 41 seconds of the second period, followed by a two-pointer from Bill Puffer.

Tecumseh then held a 14-point lead and the visitors had to play catch-up ball. At halftime, MJ had whittled the deficit to 40-33, and once closed to within three points before the Indians clicked for a 60-47 margin at the end of three quarters.

The thrid quarter wrapped up the game for Tecumseh, although losing two starters in the fourth period via fouls. Both Puffer and Mike Kennedy fouled out for the Indians, but it mattered little.

Two MJ players also left on fouls later in the final period, but the game already had been settled.

The game marked an excellence performance by Pettit, 6'-4' junior, who paced all scorers after coming off the bench in the initial quarter. He collected seven points in each the first and third periods, and added single goals in the second and fourth periods for 18 points.

Teammate Pieh, top scorer last week, tucked 14 points.

Coach Vic Lawson played every varsity member in the game that was marred with a parade to the free throw line—and MJ did most of the shooting. Except in the final two or three minutes of the game, the officials had called fouls against the Indians by a two to one margin.

Tecumseh picked up 15 fouls by halftime, added six more in the third periods and ended with an additional seven in the final eight minutes for a total of 28 fouls.

Jefferson had only six called against them in the first half but wound up with 21 when the frisky Bears fouled repeatedly just before the game ended. The Indians had 32 free throw attempts, 14 in the last quarter and made 22 for a good 69% average.

The visitors, who hit on 17 of 24 free throw attempts in the first half alone, finished with 26 of 39 shots for almost half of their total points. Tecumseh out shot MJ from the floor, bagging 26 goals to just 17 for the Bears.

Reaskins Bow to Hudson '5'

By Tom Faulhaber

Clinton Redskins, trying for their second win of the season, fell short Friday night, losing to a strong Hudson five, 73-52.

Undefeated Hudson boasts a 2-0 mark for the season, while the Redskins are at an even 1-1.

The visiting Tigers started off with a bang, leading 22-13 at the end of the first quarter. Hudson then employed a zone press, causing numerous turnovers in a romp to a 47-22 lead at the half.

Clinton fared better in the second half, outscoring Hudson, 30-26, but the Tigers held such a big lead that their bench was cleared with substitutes playing much of the time.

Lon Schneider, shooting over the field while Hudson managed the Hudson zone, took scoring honors with 20 points. Hudson's Norm Anderson paced his team with 19 points.

Friday night, the 'Skins travel to Madison.

Neil DePuy has another great granddaughter, Amber Lynn Michels, born No. 24 to Neil's son, Wendell's daughter, Sandra, in Olivet Hospital. Congratulations!

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

One "bonus" you derive from making all your prescription purchases at one pharmacy, is the druggist's accumulated record of the drugs you have been taking over the past few years.

You may not see the advantage of this as long as you're being cared for by one doctor who is familiar with your medical history. It he should forget what you've been taking, his records will also show which medicine he has prescribed for your condition, in the past.

But someday you may have to describe your aches and pains to a strange doctor, who may ask you what you've been taking for the condition. Usually the patient says, "a little red and yellow pill about that big," and the doctor has to guess which of several drugs you are describing.

It's much easier — and safer — if he can contact your pharmacist and check the record of your purchases. The druggist can often tell the doctor not only the type of durg, but the dosage and the length of time you have been taking it. Then the doctor knows what has helped you (or failed to help you) in the past, and can decide whether or not to continue in the same direction, or to prescribe another medication.

This is true in chronic or recurring illnesses, and may be all the more important for the person who is seldom sick, and who hasn't paid much attention to the type of drug given him during an illness he has almost forgotten about.

READERS WRITE

To the Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to publicly thank the Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. for the cardboard boxes which they furnished this Christmas for shipping gifts to our service men.

This is my first experience with a son overseas and it was a great help to have a strong container regulation size.

It was a most generous thing for your company to do.

In behalf of all the parents and boys whom these boxes have helped send Merry Christmas far from home we say a most grateful "Thank you."

A very Merry Christmas and a most happy and prosperous New Year to you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles V. Newell.

Performers Larry McClure and Donna Craft rehearse for the performance of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," to be held at Onsted High School, December 11-13 at 8:00 p.m.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHERE ARE GOD'S PROPHETS?

Men came onto the scene [illegible] History to be the Voice of God. They performed miracles, spoke with great authority and lived exemplary lives. Are there men like this today?

We must see that prophets were not accepted nor recognized by all men. In the Parable of the householder in Mark 12 a picture is presented of the rejection of the prophets of the Old Testament. We remember that Jeremiah was put into a dungeon. Isaiah was sawed in half with a wooden saw. Daniel faced the lions. Even Jesus, the greatest prophet was rejected and slain.

There are prophets today. Men are active who are presenting the message of God with clarity, conviction and compassion.

These men are seeing miracles performed, such as real conversion and some instances of physical healing. A prophet not only fore tells but forthtells. There are a great many men available to us who faithfully tell forth the Message of God.

A prophet [illegible] recognized by those close to him. I John 4:1-3 gives the test of determining a modern day prophet. He will exalt Jesus Christ. He will confess that Jesus Christ is indeed God the Son and The Son of God. Look around. There may be a prophet nearby. His message could save your soul.

Mrs. Edward Connor played and sang a medley or Christmas songs on the piano.

Officers elected were, George Pechay of Lyons, Ohio, president; Roy Dahlke, vice president; Lynn Hewitt, Weston, treasurer; and Mrs. Charles Dickerson, Milan, secretary.

Homemade Christmas cookies and coffee were served for refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Sunderland spent Thanksgiving in Macon, Mo. with his parents.

Our Readers Write

To the Editor:

Thanks for sending me a copy of the Dec. 4th issue.

I was simply thrilled with the write-up and pictures of me and my dollars and the adorable little girl. The pictures of our kitchen was fine too.

I don't know when I have been happier and my family too.

The write up is absolutely perfect, every word of interest to me and my family and I know it will be to all my relatives and the many, many friends I have.

I would like to get 30 copies of that paper, if they are available. Let me know the cost.

I would like a print of the other pictures Alvina Hunt took. Well perhaps not a print of all because she took so many.

The ladies, Mrs Hunt and Mrs. Calhoun, also little Melanie were delightful guests here. I would enjoy having them call again.

Would it be alright if I sent the write-up and the pictures to the Lansing paper? There are so many there who know me and would enjoy it all.

R. E. Olds' two daughters are still in Lansing, now living in East Lansing. I worked as nursemaid for the younger one, Mrs. Roe.

Through My Window

"CLOUDS AND OTHER SILLY THINGS: PART II"

Well, last week we took care of clouds—or did they take care of us? Because it would be so easy to get into a fog while trying to figure out the scientific name for this cloud or that one, I strongly suspect that much of my cloud naming will still be confined to such things as, "Oh look, there goes a big wooley dog, over there is a perfect Charlie Brown, and how is that for a marvelous fairyland castle!"

Clouds, what ever they be, are not the only things we see in the new sky part of my west facing window. The sky itself is forever fascinating. The many different shades and tones of blue are simply unbelievable. And there are even more shades of stormy-gray. No further comment here, we shall all be seeing too much of this sky during the next few months.

AMONG THE PRETTIER things we see moving across the sky are the vapor trails or jet streams. This sky of ours is a busy place, some days there is a continual parade of planes both going and coming. By the way, have you noticed how easy it is to judge how much and how fast high altitude wind is even when there are no clouds scutting across the sky?

Sometimes the jet streams hold their form and stay visable for ever so long, whereas another time they are erased [illegible] as soon as they begin [illegible]. The best of all times to watch jet streams is in the late afternoon—then the rays of the low sun backlight the trails making them luminous ribbons of yellow, orange, gold or pink.

It was just about a month ago that great flocks of migrating Canada Geese dominated our sky. As the V shaped wedges flew high above Carmean's house, we had the most excellent of views. Fortunately, our friends understand when odd things happen in my room—one Saturday, Mom and I were talking on the telephone to Eddie and, right smack in the middle of a story she was telling, I blurted out in interruption "There goes a flock of geese."

As I said before, it is nice that people understand. By the way, this was a tremendous fall for migrating geese. A late and warm fall in Canada turned cold, rainy, and snowy practically over night and most of the geese left at about the same time. Huge flocks were reported from all over, and several people called to say that on this one particular Saturday, late in the afternoon, the sky was almost black with honkers.

AND NOW for the silly part of the title. It pertains to the top-sided maple tree which grows on the creek bank just outside my window. Beth says that it is a Norway maple which explains its huge leaves, its brilliant yellow fall colors, and it's stubbornly hanging on to these leaves long after other trees have shed their's.

This year something happened—something which we puzzled over, laughed at, and yes, worried about. The tree completely changed its character and I hope the sudden reversal does not indicate an illness. First of all, the leaves started changing color early and, although a few showed some typical color, most were a non-descript and uninteresting tannish brown.

As expected, it took weeks and weeks for the tree to defeat itself. But, even with all the leaves on the ground, our maple was not naked. From the end of every little twig dangled big clusters of winged maple seeds. Believe me, it was the silliest looking tree along the creek.

Why this unusually large crop of seeds did not fall when it should we have no idea. Nor have we had the opportunity to do any investigating. Our fingers are just crossed that it is merely some sort of quirk and not something serious.

The squirrels, by the way, are having a marvelous time in our funny looking maple tree. In fact, they are working hard at getting the tree back to a more normal looking one. They are picking maple seeds and having marvelous feasts. The acrobatics as they balance on the small unstiff branch ends and either reach down or up to grab the clusters are something to see. Such clowns!

So it is that the hard-to-get-used-to new look of our west facing window is trying valiantly to please, it is entertaining us with a constant parade of clouds and other silly things.

Two Escape Spectacular Car Mishap

One of the most spectacular accidents to occur in Tecumseh in years happened Wednesday night of last week when two youths traveling south on S. Evans St. lost control and hit a tree.

Both escaped serious injury in a mishap which saw a car nearly disintegrate after impact.

According to the Tecumseh police, David C. Camron, 19, of 3314 W. Valley [illegible] was driving south at a high rate of speed when he lost control after passing over the DT&I railroad tracks. He told officers his speed was about 65 mph.

His car slid sideways for 306 feet and smashed sideways into a tree at the southwest corner of Evans and Patterson St. intersection. The auto continued on south for some 96 feet, coming to rest in a drive at 509 S. Evans.

The car's motor was torn out, stopping 75 feet from the car and on the railroad tracks next to Tecumseh Products. The auto's radiator ripped loose, landing 156 feet south of the car — or over 250 feet from the tree.

Robert Bocskay, 18, Deerfield, riding with Camron, suffered injuries and both he and Camron were taken to Herrick Hospital. Both youths were thrown out of the vehicle. Camron was charged with reckless driving.

This accident and 11 others occurred on Tecumseh streets, marking a sharp rise in accident frequency in comparison to the two previous weeks.

Murder Suspect Faces Hearing in District Court on Dec. 26th

Examination was set Wednesday by Judge Kenneth Glaser for Friday, December 26 at 10:30 a.m. in District Court for Henry Garcia, an Adrian resident accused in the shooting deaths of two Peerless Gear employees in Clinton early Monday morning.

He is currently being held in the county jail without bond.

Garcia was arrested by State police nearly twelve hours after the dual slaying when they received an anonymous tip that he was at a friend's house in the vicinity of Occidental and Sutton Rds., just south of Tecumseh.

He offered no resistance when troopers picked him up early Monday evening. Police then transported him to Adrian where he was booked for investigation of murder.

State troopers had divers searching the Raisin River Tuesday as they sought a .22 caliber pistol which was used in Monday's shootings. Authorities reportedly may drain the river basin at Red Mill Pond if the weapon is not found.

Roadblocks were also set up at the intersection of Brown and N. Evans Streets in Tecumseh early Wednesday morning in an effort to find someone who may have been driving along Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. as the assailant fled the scene.

Police report that he drove south from Clinton in a green 1965 Oldsmobile.

Six witnesses to the slaying were taken to Adrian Tuesday in an effort to make a positive identification of the killer. However, they stated that they could not do so because of their distance from the scene and poor visibility. Police say there were about 25 people outside the plant Monday, when the shooting took place shortly before dawn.

Shot and killed instantly as they walked through the Peerless parking lot around 6:40 a.m. Monday were Blevins Rhinehart, 57, 409 Locust St., and Mrs. Eileen Garcia, 41, of 2715 Fairlawn, both of Adrian.

Employed at the Tecumseh Products subsidiary for some four years, Rhinehart and Mrs. Garcia drove to work in the same car prior to the shooting.

The Garcias had been estranged for some six years, during which time Mrs. Garcia cared for her thirteen children, the oldest being 18. They are now in the custody of the court.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Garcia and Wednesday for Rhinehart, both in Adrian.

DEATH SCENE — Two county residents were shot and killed he re early Monday morning in the parking lot at Peerless Gear Co., just south of Clinton. The double murder set off a wide manhunt, searching of River Raisin by State Police skin divers at the N. Evans St. bridge Tuesday, and a roadblock at the intersection of N. Evans and Brown St. Wednesday morning. Yesterday's roadblock was in search of witnesses who may have been on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. right after the murders.

Henry Garcia leaves District Court Wednesday morning after demanding examination before Judge Kenneth Glaser.

Gas Tank Explodes

East Side Gulf Station was extensively damaged Saturday morning when an exploding gasoline tank rocked the building and set it a blaze.

Damages have been estimated at $20,000 to the building and about $8,000 for contents. The station is owned by Gulf Oil Corp.

The explosion came about when a cutting torch ignited gas fumes. Station employees were working on the front end of a wrecked car on a hoist.

When the car's tank exploded, the entire interior of the station caught fire, burning another auto in the station and tires, batteries, testing equipment and other miscellaneous equipment.

It took Tecumseh firemen approximately 15 minutes to bring the blaze under control. They were at the scene for over an hour.

Station is managed by William Ordiway and John Starr. They were working on two 1965 station wagons, one owned by a Manitou Beach resident.

Bank Paying 70c Per Share

Last week the Board of Directors of United Savings Bank declared two dividends for shareholders, payable Jan. 2.

The Board voted to increase the quarterly dividend from 25c to 30c, and hiked the year-end extra dividend from 35c to 40c.

This action, coupled with other dividends during 1969, makes the year's dividend total of $1.45 per share, highest in the bank's history.

The two dividends payable in January will amount to $87,000, and the dividend total for the year, $181,250. There are 125,000 shares outstanding.

Other record marks also were achieved during the past year. The bank's surplus was increased by $250,000 to $1,250,000, highest ever. The surplus combined with the bank's capital now totals $2.5 million, another record mark.

The highly successful year will be reviewed before shareholders at the bank's annual meeting on Jan. 27.

House next door, owned by Mrs. Lucy Kelly, sustained extensive damages. Clinton firemen summoned Tecumseh to help battle the blaze. There was no insurance on the motor home, which had not been driven since Tuesday morning.

EXPLOSION WRECKS EAST SIDE GULF

Council Rezones Waskin Lots

By Bill Whiting

Monday night's session of the City Council was the last of 1969, but by no means, the least.

Councilmen unanimously accepted a recommendation from the Planning Commission that lots along the east side of Waskins Dr be rezoned from single to two-family dwellings.

The zoning change was requested by Paul Wolf who plans to build several duplexes on lots he owns there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone of 500 Murray Dr. attended the public hearing to voice their disapproval of the proposal.

They stated that they owned one of the lots between those of Wolf's and that his proposed duplexes might threaten the value of their property, especially if they went through with plans to construct a single-family residence.

Further, they were afraid what shape they would be kept in if Wolf were to eventually sell them.

Although he does not have finished blueprints for construction, Wolf stated that he plans to use about one and a quarter lots to build two-garage dwellings of varied styles. He contended that they would raise the value of the area which is near a railroad track and has been vacant since the subdivision was built. He added that he would offer to buy the Stone's lot at the price they paid for it, if it were reasonable.

The Planning Commission approved a similar request some years ago when a developer sought approval for the two duplexes that now stand on Waskin Dr. This new move was viewed as means of conforming the rest of the street to this standard

Over the Stone's repeated objections, Councilman Whiting moved that the Commission's recommendation be adopted and the vote was unanimous that the lots be rezoned.

Mabel Hosts 14 Of Class

Holly, mistletoe, greens and lighted candles enhanced the home of Mabel Lockwood recently as she entertained 14 members of the Friendly Class of Friends Church. She was assisted by Naomi Sallows.

An appropriate Christmas corsage at each place setting was provided by Mrs. Herbert Murphy, who was unable to attend.

Mrs. Sallows announced the program of favorite poems and stories, interspersed with Christmas carols

Mrs. Roland Mohr presented the teacher, Miss Lockwood, with a gift and also the substitutes, Mrs. Perry Hayden and Mrs. Sallows, with gifts.

The class gave cash gifts to Mrs. Paul Brantingham and Mrs. Duaine Comfort, wife of the new minister in training.

Players Pick New Musical

Tecumseh Players have chosen for their winter production the fast paced, musical comedy, "Anything Goes," which will be presented at the Tecumseh Community Center's Glass Room on February 27, 28, March 1, 6 and 7.

A variety of perennial song favorites sprang from this Cole Porter creation: "Anything Goes," "Blow, Gabriel, Blow," "Friendship," I get a Kick Out of You," and many more.

There are many parts available in a variety of age brackets. These range from those speaking parts, that also require a good singing voice, to equally important parts, needing no singing talent, as well as chorus parts.

Auditions for the show are open to anyone interested in taking part. Time for tryouts will be announced next week

Rehearsals will begin shortly after the first of the year.

Send us the lost, tired, bewildered, hungry, ... the Christmas Shoppers, Clerks, and Merchants.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear father, John Marine, who was taken so suddenly one year ago December 19, 1968.

Little did we know that morn,
The sorrow the day would bring;
Nor the shock severe
To part with one we all loved so dear;
God alone knows why he had to die
Without a chance to say; Goodbye,
Sadly missed by his daughter, sons and grandchildren.

Royals Win, 57 To 49

A blistering Blissfield five grabbed an early lead in Friday night's traditional barnburner with Tecumseh and held on to win 57-49.

The Royals' big 6'6" center, Arnie Phillips, led the scoring attack with a whopping 27 points.

It was Blissfield's game all the way as Tecumseh got off to a slow first quarter start, mustering only 8 points to the Royals 15 at the first buzzer.

The Indians came back in the second quarter, however, to outscore their opponents 19-15, but at half-time they were still trailing 30-27.

In the third period, Blissfield's Phillips broke lose on a wild 14-point scoring spree and accounted for all but two of his team's points for that period. The Tecumseh defense just couldn't contain the big center, as he all but wrapped up the game for the Royals.

Fourth quarter action saw the Indians hold Phillips down to three field goals, but Tecumseh could only come up with 10 points themselves.

Indian scoring was fairly consistent as Bob Pettit led the squad with 10, followed by Craig Smith and Scott Dalton with 8.

Phillips dominated the Royal boards, and was followed in scoring by teammate Rich Gurcia with 12 points.

Indians Easy for Bedford

Despite a tremendous 28-point scoring spree by Tecumseh's 6'3" Bill Puffer, the Indians couldn't quite stand up to Bedford's balanced attack as they went down to an 82-57 defeat Saturday night.

Fresh from Friday's setback at Blissfield, the Indians trailed throughout the game and just couldn't match their opponents' consistent scoring.

Craig Smith and Bill Puffer started the Indian drive in the first quarter as they tallied up 16 points.

Bedford was ready, though, as they marked up 21 to lead at their end of the period. Action slowed considerably in the second period as Bedford stayed on top at the half, 37-28.

The Mules came back in the third quarter to outshoot the Tribe, 2-14. The Indians couldn't keep up with their relentless drive, and they could muster only 15 points in the final eight minutes of the game.

Puffer took the scoring honors with his outstanding effort, and Smith's fine shooting in the first half gave him 12 to follow.

Jim Kindle turned in a fine performance for Bedford with 20 points, followed by Rick Lorenzen with 15.

The Indians travel to Airport this Friday.

The competition for the tournament championship went right down to the wire. Bob Hackett was the last man to wrestle for Tecumseh, and he gave us a two point lead with his championship performance at 165 pounds. At this point Dexter still had two men to wrestle at 175 and 185 pound class. The Dexter man lost at 185 but the 175 pounder won to give the Dreadnaughts the victory and the team trophy.

Medal winners for Tecumseh were:

First Place — 107 lbs., Merv Maynard; 145 lbs., Steve Tilton; 165 lbs., Bob Hackett.

Second Place — 98 lbs., Jim Freshcorn; 115 lbs., Abel Valdez; 123 lbs., Joe Bailey; 137 lbs., Gary Jones.

Third Place — 155 lbs., Steve Hinkleman.

Our wrestlers did a great job against some fine competition. First year varsity men, Jim Freshcorn and Joe Bailey really came through with outstanding performances.

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHY DO WE HAVE TROUBLES?

Life is full of trouble, woe and sorrow. Calamaties, tragedies and accidents occur in most of our lives. What is the meaning of these things? Psalms 90:10 says if we live to be 70 or 80 years of age yet we will face labour and sorrow. Sin causes suffering and sorrow. All of us are sinners and all of us have troubles of one kind or another. Persons who are unsaved simply must face the reality and inescapable nature of this. Their life's difficulties are without significance apart from the fact that sin is the cause.

For the Christian, however, the situation is different. Romans 8:28 tells that all events in a saved man's life have a God-given purpose. All things—encompasses all of life, good and bad, happy and unhappy, desired and undesired. The Bible tells us that these things are to strengthen us. See I Peter 1:6,7. They are to correct us concerning our sins. See Hebrews 12:5-11. They are to make us like Jesus. See Romans 8:29. They are come to teach us so we can comfort others. See II Corinthians 1:3-7. We can rejoice every day, in all things, if we realize what is the purpose of all things.

Exchange Youth Is Now Home

Janice Ruesink, 1969 Michigan International Farm Youth Exchange from Lenawee to Ceylon, arrived back in Washington D.C. Dec. 10.

Jan is now at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ruesink of Adrian.

A number of clubs or social groups have indicated interest in having Jan speak on her experiences. Additional speaking engagements may be made by contacting Jan directly.

Miss Ruesink's six month stay in Ceylon closed with travels to Thailand, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Honolulu, Los Angeles and finally Washington D.C. While in Japan Jan had the opportunity to visit with Atsushi Kitamura, Japanese IFYE to Lenawee in 1968, who stayed with the Ruesins.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

They first appeared way back in—well, it was slightly past mid-November The day before had been a busy bird day, the first good snow fall of the season had sent all the regulars scurrying to the feeders. The way they gobbled down scratch feed and sun flower seeds made it easy to imagine that they were stocking up in preparation for a seige of winter.

The next day dawned clear and bright, the sun was brilliant and the sky dazzling blue, and oh, how Christmas-card beautiful was our snow-covered world.

Again it was a day of heavy free-loading by blue jays, titmice, nuthatches, millions of sparrows, and cardinals. This winter we are blessed with the most handsome pair of cardinals Papa must be the son of Mr. Bright and Mama is a lovely blend of rich, soft lady cardinal colors.

Papa's breast is so red it, almost seems to glow and, when Mama C is on the feeder, her red eyebrows are striking. There were hairy woodpeckers in the trees and really, about the only regulars we missed were the squirrels, they apparently were not hungry enough to get their feet snowy and cold.

*

LOUANN and I were trying to click my mind into some early Christmas thinking when suddenly she asked who was eating with the sparrows. I took a quick look and exclaimed with glee. The feeder was full with its usual compliment of squabbling sparrows but there indeed was something else too!

Peacefully minding his own business and paying not the least attention to the sparrow's 'busy-bodying' was a dainty bird with satiny black, white marked wings. A winter garbed goldfinch. Our first of the year.

Off and on all day he came back to the near-my-window feeder. He must have passed along the news that the Duncan's banquet boards were piled high because I knew we entertained three or four different gold finches.

They never came together but there was a definite difference in their coloring. The light olivish suit one wore had quite bright epaulets of yellow, another's tail was skinny, and a third showed a small patch of yellow on his throat.

Charming birds, we are hoping they continue to visit us—last year was such a good goldfinch winter for Tecumseh people, perhaps we can have a repeat.

It was during my first cup of afternoon tea that the goldfinch's cousin flew in. A commotion on the feeder attracted my attention, there was noise and also a corner-of-the-eye impression of something large.

My goodness, there were lots of somethings. I was so excited that I could hardly stutter out to Louann, "Those are evening grosbeaks!"

*

SEVERAL weeks before, Ella had called with the exciting news that a large flock of the yellows, white, and black beauties was in her back yard. Later that day, Gertie T. reported that she had seen them bathing in the creek.

We looked and looked, kept the sunflower seeds piled high but had no luck. No luck that is until this pretty day when grosbeaks were the farthest from my mind. I was perfectly happy and satisfied with the goldfinches.

The grosbeaks were the icing on the cake. Honestly, are any of our winter visitors more exciting? Chunky birds with short tails, they are so brightly colored and their bills are so heavy—well, I never cease to marvel that such exotic looking characters appear in our often drab and dreary Michigan winter. (I must remember that we have our grand and glorious days too and that it was on one of the nicest of these that the evening grosbeaks paid us their first visit.)

Perhaps I should explain why I insist upon calling these two birds cousins. In the technical and scientific world they are not classed as particularly close relatives I'm sure.

And in size, build, and certainly shape of bill there is absolutely no similaries. But, a female evening grosbeak and either a male or female goldfinch always remind me of each other. At this time of year they are both the same yellowish-greenish- olivish-tannish color.

So it is that the winter was off to an exciting start and we hope to have many, many repeats of this, our first day with the cousins.

'On This, The Day Before Christmas

To the editor:

Well, it is that time of year again when people seem to be really bustling around trying to get everything set for Santa to come, but over here you don't notice it since Vietnam is a place for war and not for thinking about the good things at this time of year—but I think every G.I. would agree with one that they'd give their last nickel to be home for Christmas, I know I would.

Anyway, that isn't what I started to write about. A few weeks ago I bought a box of Christmas cards, and in them I found this one and the only thing I can think of is St. Peter's Church on Evans Street at it stood a few years ago. I don't know where the person who made this card got his idea but I wonder if he or she didn't drive through Tecumseh one w[illegible] and s[illegible] old St. Peter standing there. I still think it was one of the finest looking churches I'd seen—what do you think?

I get the Herald every once in a while depending on how the mail is going, and you're doing a fine job.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Paul W. Kruse

HER WINDOW

The Bennetts live here. That's Grandmother Bennett's Bible on the window sill, and the whole family goes to the church across the snow covered field.

John Bennett works in the local bank. Martha, his wife, is president of the PTA, and they have three lovely children. Grandmother Bennett has been living with them for the past couple of years, since she broke her hip. She can't always get to church in wintertime and that's why she calls this her window. When she can't be in church, it helps to be able to see it.

To her, the church steeple represents a great many things, and brings back many memories. Her son was married in that church. Her husband was buried from it. Her grandchildren were christened in it.

The Church has helped her to bear grief, in hours of sorrow; and it has seemed to put a benediction upon her happiness, in times of joy. Most important of all, whatever the occasion, whatever the crisis . . . the Church has always been there.

To Grandmother Bennett, the most comforting thing in the world is knowing that it always will be there.

Our Readers Write

To the Editor:

I came uneasy to my country. My birth was shrouded by the clouds of war.

I was far too young to have had a hand in it—but I was, after all, born in one of the Axis nations. After living a year under Russian occupation, I had a chance of meeting the fighting men of America. And I knew that instead of bringing revenge they brought gum.

And they talked about home. They talked eternally about home.

They were strange men on a strange ground and while we, as children, looked up to them, they still scared us a little. But as the years passed, and the talk became deeds, the fear was replaced by respect. America put away bitterness, not to be forgotten, but so it wouldn't interfere with the main job of helping people.

Because of my experiences, the opportunity of living in the United States gives the words, "Peace on Earth, Toward All Men of Good Will," a deeper meaning for me.

Now, as another Christmas approaches, it's my strange fighting men on another strange ground.

Now, as then, it's hard to be away from home at Christmas.

Now, as then, there's a reason it has to be done.

Occupation by Chairman Mao is no different from occupation by the Russians. Czechoslavakia wants freedom as much as America but doesn't have the means to pursue and retain it.. Whereas freedom is the right, at birth, of all men, we find it our duty to answer the call and come to the assistance of freedom seeking men.

We struggle for this principle in the session halls of the United Nations.

We struggle for this principle in the emerging nations.

We struggle for this principle in our own country.

And we struggle hardest for this principle in the unhappy swamps of Viet Nam.

So it can't be the happy Christmas it should be. Our young men are standing in another part of the world. Their seats at the dinner table are empty. Their graduation suits hang empty in our closets. Their cars sit empty in the sheds. But there's no emptiness in our hearts.

We haven't [illegible] that he stand for liberty, only to take away our support in his struggle. We haven't joined with his enemy to defeat his aim. And we won't let him down by misinforming him about our feelings.

This Christmas it's time for a moratorium. A moratorium against doubt. A moratorium against failure to speak up. A moratorium to reassure our brothers and sons that we know why they can't be with us and that we're sharing the pain of their absence.

It didn't make headlines because it was done thoughtfully and quietly, but just a few weeks ago, in thousands of smaller communities across the nation, Americans stood in chill winds in parks and on court house lawns. They heard amateur speakers give voice on Veteran's Day to the real feelings in the land. Feelings which tend to be smothered by shouting antics in Chicago court rooms. The deeper feelings which must be conveyed to the Americans who stand for us in the defense of freedom.

May I call on you in asking our Commander in Chief, U.S. Forces, Republic of Vietnam to pass on your feelings of support to our fighting men Send a card to: General Creighton W. Abrams, [illegible] Headquarters, U. S. Forces, Republic of Vietnam, APO 96601.

Youngsters Are Warned

Tecumseh Park will be opened for unsupervised ice skating on Saturday, Dec. 27, if cold weather continues, reports Ward Eardley, recreation director.

He recommends that skaters take extra precautions and not to skate close to open water, stay within 25 feet of the shore line, and always skate with a friend.

At the present, Tecumseh Park is posted against skating, although many youngsters have been observed skating on the relatively thin ice.

The director feels that any warm weather will make ice there now very dangerous.

Kiwanis, Rotary Raise $245.05 In SA Kettles

In a combined effort, members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs collected $245.05 in the Salvation Army kettles here Dec. 20.

Major John Werner of the Citadel reported filling 20 baskets with food, exceeding $400, for distribution in the community by Tecumseh Service Club.

Club members rang bells for donations from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

32 Apartments for Waskin's

Thirty-two apartments are being planned in the Waskin Subdivision at the northeast corner of Russell Rd. and Green Hwy.

Four units of eight apartments are scheduled for the area, just across from Wolf's Appliances. They will be two-story, all brick, and of pre-fab construction. Builder is from Adrian.

Plans for the apartments will be presented to the Planning Commission in January. A public hearing for a zoning change will then have to be held by Council before final approval can be given.

If approved, construction is expected to start in March.

Other apartments in the subdivision are planned by Dean Cunningham and Paul Wolf.

Brochures To Be Mailed by Schools

Brochures about a new, proposed Tecumseh High School will be mailed early in January to all registered voters in the school district.

The brochures will give some details and facts about the plans and information for public meetings.

School Board has scheduled Wednesday, Jan. 14 at 8 p.m., at the Junior High. Following week on Jan. 22 a public session will be held at 8 p.m. at the Ridgeway Elementary School.

Third meeting for folks to ask questions and learn specific plans will be on Jan. 27 at 8 p.m., at Tipton. Final session is planned for Sunday, Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. at the high school gym.

At all of these meetings, school officials will inform the public about the new school and answer questions from the audience.

Within the next two weeks, The Herald will publish a list of questions and answers provided by the schools. During the month of January, it will also accept questions from readers and attain answers, pertaining to the new school.

Voters will go to the polls on Feb. 10 and vote on an 8-mill bond isssue which would provide $9,700,000 for construction of a new high school and improvements at the current high school.

Driver Killed in Crash

Raymond Allen Earls, 34, of 9924 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., was killed early Sunday morning when his 1965 Corvette was found torn in half after slamming broadside into a tree beside M-50, one-quarter mile east of Hendershot Hwy.

Rear end of the vehicle was against the tree, where the impact occurred and the front half was found over a 100 feet further east near the highway.

Lenawee County sheriff's officers surmised that Earls was east bound, when he apparently went off the south berm, then lost control and went off the north side of the roadway.

They estimated the car was traveling between 85 and 90.

Mr. Earls was born Oct. 5, 1935 in Middleburg, N.Y. He graduated from Middleburg High School. He worked as a welder at Meyers Industries and had lived in the Tecumseh area for 12 years.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Earls, Middleburg, N.Y., three sisters, Mrs. David Horsman, Middleburg; Mrs. Gary Doane of Binghamton, N.Y.; and Mrs. Winthrop Ames, Horseheads, N.Y., and two uncles, Otto Meier and Al Meyers, both of Tecumseh.

Services were held Dec. 24 at 11 a.m. at Proctor Funeral Home with the Rev. Edmond Watkins of the Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was to be in Middleburg.

HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

DEATH CAR — A tree sheared off the rear end of this Corvette, driven early Sunday morning by Raymond A "Shorty" Earls, who was killed on M-50, 1ôst east of Hendershot Hwy. Deputies theorize his speed was between 85 and 100 mph.

New Sacks To Be Used January 1

Only one week is left for residents to dispose of refuse sacks handled by Modern Disposal of Napoleon.

Effective Jan. 1, Maenard Weaver of Onsted will take over collecting trash and garbage in Tecumseh, and Weaver will be handling his refuse sacks only. Modern Disposal sacks will no longer be picked up.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says that due to next week's holiday, both Weaver and Modern Disposal will be picking up refuse on Friday, Jan. 2.

The Napoleon concern will be finishing up the normal Thursday route.

Not only does the city's refuse business change hands on Jan. 1, so does the price.

Weaver, who was low bidder, will be collecting sacks at the rate of 38c each. This includes both collection and cost of the sack. Modern disposal's bid was 40c.

City residents starting with the January billing of utilities, will be charged $4.75 for the first quarter.

SANTA'S HELPERS — People usually feel the only thing the police ever give away are traffic tickets, but yes, Virginia, the Tecumseh Police do have a heart. Patrolman Gary Green and Don Paul are shown stacking some of the eleven Christmas packages which were donated from the proceeds of the Policemen's Ball. The boxes are filled with meats and fruits and other goodies, which are bound to make the holidays a little bit brighter for some deserving families.

Former Banker Struck By Car

Andrew Woodward, former banker here, was struck by a car while walking near his Florida home at Bradenton.

He was admitted to Manatee Hospital and released the next morning after X-rays, having suffered only cuts and bruises in the mishap.

The driver of the car told highway patrol that he was traveling only 10 miles an hour and was unable to see Mr. Woodward due to fog.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the over 72,000 Legionnaries of the American Legion of Michigan, we want to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year We appreciate the tremendous support you have given us not only this year, but in all the previous years as well.

Without your help, it would be pretty hard to keep the citizens of Michigan informed on the many things that are being accomplished through our fine programs, which affect everybody . . . veterans and non-veteran. How else would people know that our Children's Home at Otter Lake is considered the finest in the state and cares for the children of all war veterans . . . that each year our American Legion Boys' State program at Michigan State University provides 1,300 high school scholars at no cost to them with the finest 'lab' course in city, county and state government offered anywhere . . . that The American Legion hospital at Battle Creek is one of the finest rehabilitation hospitals in the United States and is open to all citizens . . . that we give 36 scholarships to high school students each year and operate The American Legion Oratorical Contest which helps build better citizens.

We thank you for your wonderful cooperation and F. Gerrit Veldman, State Commander of The American Legion of Michigan, hopes that you w continue to support us duri our second fifty years of servic Seasons Greetings to you a yours.

Sincerely,
Thomas A. Kouri,

Letters to the Editor

In regards of my getting the Tecumseh Herald of Dec. 4. There was supposed to be a 24 page paper.

I get the front section and the advertisements only which consisted of 11 pages.

This is the second time this has happened, either someone is taking my paper out of the mailing container or it is falling out during the mail delivery.

This makes me upset as I got this as a gift and the person isn't getting what she paid for.

I do like the paper and if they could staple the sack at the top, maybe I would get the full news.

I hope you all have a Happy Holiday and am looking forward in getting my paper complete from now on.

Thank you.

Mrs. Robert Green
Inglewood, Calif.

P.S. We will be cheering for Michigan at the Rose Bowl, I am from Britton, so I do like to read the news.

Theatre Owner Stops Movie

The youthful audience at the Clinton Theatre may have been a bit surprised Saturday night when owner John Truesdale stopped the showing of Warner Bros.' "The Wild Bunch" part way through and returned their price of admission.

It seems the film preview was all right and the film was rated "M"; however, when the film came in, it was rated "R" and Mr. Truesdale was distressed by the extreme amount of profanity and viciousness displayed on screen.

The theatre owner is trying to provide family type films for his audience, however, it is increasingly difficult to do so.

Ida Wins

By Elmer Hall

BRITTON — Ida slipped by Britton Saturday night by a slim margin of 72-71.

With one second left, Britton was ahead by one point when an Ida player was fouled in the act of shooting and made both shots to win the game.

The contest was close throughout the whole game except the first quarter in which Ida had a seven-point margin. The Tories quickly closed the gap in the second quarter to tie the score at half-time. The second half showed each team consistently coming back and going ahead.

Rick Maska was high scorer for the Tories with 22 points, and Merv Skampo led the Bluestreaks with 18.

The Herald erred last week in reporting the increase of the year-end dividend of the United Savings Bank and the amount to be paid on Jan. 2, 1970.

Total dividends for 1969, including quarterly and year-end, amount to $181,250.

BRITTON—A letter of thanks from Geo. W. Eidson, coordinator of Special Education of the Lenawee Intermediate School District, was received recently by Mrs Henry Brown, cafeteria manager, Britton-Macon Area Schools.

It thanked the members of the Lenawee County School Food Service Asociation of the Britton-Macon School for a generous gift of two sewing machines to be used in their special education program.

The letter reads:

"Dear Mrs. Brown:

On behalf of the boys and girls at tthe Lenawee Institute I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your very generous gift of two sewing machines that we received from your organization. It is because of organizations like yours and their concern for others that our program has grown and developed to the point that it has. Without this kind of support from the community, many of our excellent programs would not exist.

Will you please extend greetings to your organization on behalf of the children, the staff, and myself for this most valuable equipment."

Sincerely,
George W. Eidson,
Coordinator Special Education

It's Christmas, and we're so glad to chime in with our own good wishes to you, your family and friends. For your loyal patronage, accept our warm thanks. We shall continue in our sincere endeavor to please you, our dear customers.

Back row: Coach Ron Lynch, Lynn Hawkins, Don Olsen Bruce Handy, Ron Bruckner, Kim Swift, and John Vincent.

THS Whips Airport

The Indians got off to an early lead in Friday's game at Airport [illegible] score the Jets [illegible] all but the last quarter to come out on top, 57-51.

Craig Smith had a hot night, scoring eight field goals and going two for two at the foul line for 18 big points He was followed up by teammate Bill Puffer, who contributed 12 to the Indian tally.

Tecumseh came on strong in the first quarter and held a narrow 10-7 lead at the first buzzer. Smith and Puffer went to work in the second period and helped the team to a 29-21 halftime score.

The Jets came back to post 16 in the next period, but couldn't match Tecumseh's 18.

Aiport's Rick McIntosh, who was the game's high scorer with 19, led a comeback attempt in the last quarter, but his squad could only master 14 to the Indian's 11. The flying five outscored THS 30-29 in the last half, but it wasn't enough to catch up.

Tecumseh is now looking forward to its next big contest at Flat Rock on Jan. 9.

OLD GLORY FOR STUDENTS — Mrs. Harry Hammel, Americanism chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary to Underwood-Orr Post, presents a large outdoor United States flag to Rick Rohrer, president of the student council of Tecumseh High School, for use at the school. Dancers Hear Favorites

CLINTON — Long-time musical favorites of ballroom dancers were featured at the "Winter Fascination" dance Saturday night at the high school.

Fifteen couples danced until midnight to the music provided by the high school dance band

An impromptu combo of band director Richard Jorgensen, on the bass Don Osgood, senior, on drums, and Jerry Porter, a former Clinton bandsman, on the piano, also entertained throughout the evening. Jerry also played trumpet with the band's brass section.

Cookies, coffee and punch were served by Dr. and Mrs. Ed Wight and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dixon.

BEHIND the COUNTER with CARL LAMB

Behind Counter

"What takes so long to fill my prescription?????"

The prescription has to be checked, the doctor may have to be called, and other professional reasons.

Besides these, however, there may be other considerations. For instance, my lovely wife, Mary, and I have been married only 19 short years and therefore find it necessary to call her at home once or twice a day that is the day that she does stay home, then we always call to check on the grandchildren at least two times a day. Sometimes I may not have had a good night's sleep, and since I feel a bit tired I may be a bit slower than usual in filling your physician's prescription.

Then, too, I get such important pharmaceutical questions as: "How much is that best seller paperback novel on the rack on the other side of the store?" Now a question of this importance necessitates my stopping work, calling the clerk and presenting the question to her.

Then again, contrary to popular opinion, I find it necessary to stop for lunch or supper, occasionally, I realize, of course, that it is an inconvenience to the prescription customer when I leave the counter for 15 to 20 minutes out of a 12 hour day, but these are the facts of life.

One of the more frustrating reasons for your wait is that, although pharmacists are required to study 5 foreign languages, ancient Egyptian hieroglyphics, Sanskrit, chicken scratching, and pass the F.B.I course in cryptography, occasionally it is impossible to read with any accuracy what the doctor wrote on the prescription.

It is then necessary for me to phone the physician and say "OK, I give up, you stumped me. What is it?"

I would like to take this opportunity to invite you, the prescription customer to sit down sometime, in our prescription department in order to observe the time it often takes to fill an order, for, you see, one of the biggest reasons it takes so long is that I must spend 15 minutes explaining why it takes 15 minutes to fill your prescription.

Merry Christmas

Through My Window

"ON THIS, THE DAY BEFORE CHRISTMAS"

Well, look around — it's here — tomorrow truly is Christmas! By now all the cards and holiday notes should be written, the presents all bought and wrapped, the candies and cookies made Also by now the headaches and sore feet from shopping should be over, the frustration at the over-commercialization of the season should be fading, and perhaps the near exhaustion from noise, crowds and just plain old fashioned confusion will be letting up

As we near the magical hours of Christmas Eve there will, hopefully, be a few minutes for peace and quiet, a restful few moments for a bit of reexamining, reaffirming, restrengthening our faith. Because after all, this is a very special time of year This is the time of year when, as Martha Smook says in an old issue of Daily Word, "We see with cleaner vision, as if we look at the world with more love, as if we look at other persons with more understanding, as if we believe in and expect miracles, as if we feel Christ nearer, closer, more immediate than at other times."

And aren't miracles, a world full of more love, and Christ being near what we need in this world today? How quickly all of the problems would be solved. But before world problems are settled, people must find their own peace. This, of course, leads me to the article I have given you for the past oh, so many years. But some things don't change and my mood at Christmas time is one of them. So, if you will please bear with me again ——

Each day I look out on the wonderful world here along the edge of Evans Creek and have no trouble at all believing, to borrow a phrase, in a "Power greater than myself". His miracles are all around and are mine for the looking. A scarlet cardinal sitting in fresh fallen snow, the breathtaking beauty of a winter sunrise, the yellow explosion of spring blooming forsythia bushes, the loud serenading of tiny wrens, a jewel hummingbird hovering over a red flower, the brilliance of the fall color spectacle, the gray days when we receive much needed rain, and the yearly cycle returns to winter. Truly, each season, each day, each hour, His handiwork gladdens our window pictures.

Why then, does such a wise Creator, who can be so lavish with love and beauty, allow [illegible] tragic and seemingly senseless things. Well, a long time ago, after the car in which I was riding came out second best in an encounter with a tree, I decided that perhaps it is not meant for us to know all the answers, all the whys. There may be no logical explanation, but things do happen for a purpose — even though we do not always see right away what that purpose is.

"One of my favorite thoughts is taken from Peter Marshall, that famous Scot, who spoke so eloquently from a Presbyterian pulpit. He believed that God never closes one door without opening another. So, then it is our job to find the other door. The search may be a long difficult one — certainly it is a full-time task and one which leaves no time for bitterness or self pity. Oh, of course, there are dark moods and moments of discouragement, but, when faith falters, a look outside quickly sets us back on the right track.

The world I see through my window, the wonderful world of nature, is a continual testimony to the existence of our all powerful Father. Just think about the beauty of a bird, the perfection of a single feather, the fascinating parade of clouds across the sky, the miracle of trees, and grass, and flowers, the fury of a strong wind, the flash and crash of a thunderstorm, the soft quietness of a gentle snowfall, the bright warmth of sunshine, the muted stillness of heavy fog. Because most of my time is spent in a hospital-type bed, which is positioned in front of lovely large windows, I have time to look out, to see, to enjoy, and to marvel at all of these constant reminders of Him whose Son's birthday we are about to celebrate.

A great deal of the celebration will be wild and hectic fun; this is the season of presents and parties, of dressing up and calling on friends. It is a warm and sentimental season; it is a time for reminiscing; it is a time for appreciation. I always am hesitant about making a personal list of "I am thanful for" — they are apt to sound glib and Pollyannaish and besides every day is so full of blessings that a complete list would run from now 'til then'. Let us not confine our thankfulness to any one special season. But there is something special about the holidays and I cannot help saying a little extra thank you for a marvelous family and a host of fine friends. Because of them, my life is full and rich. I am also fortunate in that, even though paralyzed from the neck down, I can, with the help of [illegible] length body braces, sit comfortably for a while in a wheel chair or a car. When warm weather permits, I love to get outside, closer to the world I see through my window.

And so it is that as the glorious Day draws near, may I wish you all the very merriest of Christmases and the happiest of New Years, may you find many presents beneath your Christmas tree and a full measure of peace and joy in your heart!

Pastor tell me

By DUANE H. McNEIL

WHY DID JESUS COME?

The Christmas Season is an excellent time to survey the work and ministry of Jesus Christ. The question above is perhaps one of the more important concerning this time.

Jesus came because God the Father sent Him. The Bible abounds in this teaching. Rom. 8:3, "God sending His own Son." John 20:21 "As my Father hath sent me." John 3:16 "God so loved the world that He gave." God sent Jesus to the earth to die for us.

Then again, Jesus came because He wants to do so Himself. Phil. 2:5-9 speaks of Christ's willing obedience for us. Heb. 10:7 "Lo, I come to do thy will, O God." The phrase "He gave Himself" is repeated several times in the New Testament.

Best of all however, Luke 19:10 says "For the Son of man to come to seek and to save that which was lost. "Who is lost? Anyone who does not know whence he came, where he is going, nor how to get where he wishes to go. Jesus died to be a Saviour. He wants to Save us from Hell and from our sins. He saves those who accept His help. We accept Him by simply believing the Words of God, the Bible. A Merry Christmas is for those who have made room for Him.

The concert is over. The artist takes a bow. Or, perhaps the curtain rings down on a smash hit. And hands slap, smack, pat, or tap.

Hands do other things besides applaud. Some write on blackboards, others perform miracles of surgery — some type, some sew, some plant. Hands drive trucks, make music or diaper a baby.

There are crippled hands and wrinkled hands, soft ones and smooth; hands flung up as a shield; others stretched in supplication.

In God's Church are praying hands. These hands translate compassion into action. They find homes for the homeless and food for the hungry. They teach, as well as preach, and bring hope to hearts long lonely. They, literally, become the hands of God.

Today, as never before, mankind needs the assurance and comfort of God's love. Won't you help your church reach out? Offer your heart and your helping hands.

First Grade At Cobo Hall

CLINTON — Mrs. Steve Halchisha's fourth grade students have recently become great fans of Smoky the Bear.

After reading a story entitled "Whimper Heard Around the World," a story about the life of Smoky, the students decided to write letters to him. This was done in their English class.

A few days later the children went to the post office to mail their letters, and there they saw employees sorting mail.

They were also given a tour of the post office and learned many things about the United States postal system.

The children are now waiting for replies to their letters and the Official Junior Ranger Kits which will accompany the replies.

Gary E. Spalo of Big Rapids, was among the recent graduates at the Michigan State Police recruit school. He has been assigned to the Clinton State Police Post.

4th Graders Write Smokey, Await Replies

CLINTON — A visit to Cobo Hall, was enjoyed by 85 boys and girls of the first grade, last Wednesday.

They were accompanied by their teachers, Mrs Lucia Hynes, Mrs. Lois DeMots, Mrs. Elizabeth Dillon and Mrs. Allen Wise, and several mothers.

They saw the Christmas Carnival, sponsored by the City of Detroit, paintings of Michigan history, a puppet theatre, and an animated bookworm. A slide down a giant panda and snowman slide ended the visit there.

After eating sack lunches on the bus, the youngsters were taken on a tour of J. L. Hudson Co., and talked with Santa.

Ensemble Performs at CHS Concert

CLINTON — A new 22-member wind ensemble was introduced at the Christmas concert of the Clinton High School band and choir Wednesday evening.

Band director Richard Jorgenson explained how members of the wind ensemble had practiced entirely during after-school hours, and how the girls had fashioned their own long, red, silver-trimmed gowns, which added so much to the appearance of the ensemble.

They played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring", and "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

Concert band numbers included "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" from Lohengrin, "Adete Fideles," and "Sleigh Ride."

An added feature was a drum duet by Don Osgood and Rick Warner, playing "Connecticut Drummer."

The 61-member choir, directed by Mrs. Donald Geiger, sang a medley of Christmas selections, including "Mary's Little Boy Chile," featuring soloists Eric Sparks and James Claus, and "Silent Night," featuring soloist Debbie Gibbard.

As has become traditional at the Christmas concerts in the high school, the program was climaxed with the singing of the Hallelujah chorus from Handel's Messiah, with all former choir members invited to join in.

Several of the choir alumni did so.
